ALARM FELT AS TO PLANE OVER OCEAN

Second Night Since Ruth Elder Took Off to Cross Atlantic Finds No Further Report Received

SHOULD HAVE BEEN SEEN BY VESSELS

Plane Flew Over Steamer at 10:45 Previous Night But Not Seen During Following Day

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The second night since Ruth Elder and George Haldeman took off for France in their monoplane, the American Girl, found no further concerning their progress unbroken except for one report.

Haldeman drove the orange monoplane into the air at Roosevelt Field at 5:04 yesterday afternoon while his youthful companion sat in a cabin chair clutching a toy cat mascot and praying that her dream of being the first woman to fly over the Atlantic might be realized. Later she planned to take the stick herself and alternate with Haldeman as copilot on the long grind to Le Bourget field outside Paris.

SEEN TUESDAY NIGHT

The only word that came concerning the American Girl during its first night's flight, was received early this morning from the steamer American Banker. The captain reported by wireless that at 10:45 p.m. the plane had flown above his ship about 425 miles east of New York, blinking its light in greeting and disappearing into the moonlight. After that the plane flew on, unless some unknown disaster overtook it, through the night and the following day without being seen by any of the many ships that dotted the steamer lane. This fact caused considerable concern as the American Banker said that the plane was flying at an altitude of about 1,000 feet, and it was felt that at that height it should have shown into the vision of several other ships at least during the daylight hours.

During the day the Mauretania reported from 800 miles at sea and the Celtic from mid-ocean, and nothing had been seen of the American Girl, although a close watch had been kept.

SOME CHANGES MADE IN IRISH MINISTRY

DUBLIN, Oct. 12.—President Cosgrave, re-elected as chief executive of the Irish Free State Council in the Dail Eireann yesterday, made few changes in his new Ministry, which he announced today. The changes that were made gave the Hon. Ernest Blyth the postmaster's office as well as the portfolio of Finance Minister. Hon. Patrick McGillicuddy took over the Internal Affairs Ministry in addition to his Ministry of Commerce, while Hon. James Fitzgerald Kenney became Minister of Justice.

Flood in Lisbon

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 12.—One of the heaviest rains in many years flooded the lower parts of Lisbon this afternoon. Lightning interrupted trolley service for a short time. Firemen were overwhelmed with telephone calls for assistance during the storm, which lasted three hours. The meteorological station announced last night that a thunderstorm was expected over the Atlantic near Lisbon, preventing wireless communication with the Azores.

PREMIER W. L. KING SENDS GREETINGS

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—Among the first to telegraph congratulations to Hon. R. B. Bennett, who was selected by the National Convention this afternoon to be leader of the Conservative party, was the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada and the leader of the Liberal Government. The Prime Minister dispatched the following wire this evening to Mr. Bennett at Winnipeg: "I have just learned of your selection as leader of the Conservative party of Canada and desire to tender to you very hearty congratulations on the confidence expressed in you by the members of your party, and on the distinguished honor which they have conferred upon you."

The telegram bears the Prime Minister's signature.

McBride Conservative Club Urged Against Spread of Factional Unrest in the Party

ECHOES ARE HEARD OF RECENT DISPUTE

A resolution expressing complete loyalty to Hon. S. P. Toimie as leader of the Conservative Party in British Columbia was passed without a dissenting vote at the annual meeting of the McBride Conservative Club at the Sons of England Hall last night.

The club also decided by unanimous vote to telegraph its congratulations to Hon. R. B. Bennett on his election to the leadership of the Conservative Party in Canada. Mr. P. J. Sinnott was re-elected president of the club. Mr. George A. Turner was re-elected vice-president. Mr. Charles Epley and Mr. Henry Callow, secretary and treasurer, respectively, for a number of years, declined to stand for re-election to those offices, and Captain A. A. Watts was elected secretary, and Mr. Oswyn J. Boulton, treasurer.

The executive was selected as follows: Messrs. S. Conacher, Captain R. P. Matheson, Mr. A. Lancaster.

Liberals Pleased Western Man Is Chosen Leader

CALGARY, Oct. 12.—Calgary received with jubilation the news of the election of Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., as leader of the National Conservative party. While many prominent Conservatives are absent from the city attending the convention at Winnipeg, those who remain express their pleasure at the choice in no uncertain terms. Rejoicing was not confined to the Conservative ranks, as Calgary men and women of other political persuasions appreciate the fact that an honor has been bestowed upon a Calgary man, and freely expressed the conviction that Mr. Bennett's qualities of leadership and statesmanship made him a most happy choice as leader of a great political party. With most of the officials of the local Conservative organization absent attending the convention, no definite plans for a formal reception to Mr. Bennett on his return to Calgary could be made.

Pirates Make Raid in Hong Kong Harbor

HONG KONG, Oct. 12.—Pirates are believed to have carried their operations into Hong Kong harbor. They boarded the steam launch Wafang alongside the wall and stole bars of gold valued at $24,000.

SAN FRANCISCO HOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—San Franciscoers showed their real and mopped their brows and called on the weather man today for information on the high temperature. The weather bureau replied that mercury had hit the 85.9 mark at 2 p.m. today, the highest October temperature since 1917, when 96 degrees was recorded. The nearest to this was in October, 1925, when the temperature was up to 85 degrees.

COUNSEL SAYS EGGERS CAN PROVE ALIBI

Mr. J. A. Russell Declares Defence Will Show That Alleged Hijacker Was Not Near Scene of Robbery

DRAMATIC STORY OF PIRACY TOLD

"Troy" Martin Tells Assize Court He Cannot Definitely Identify Milo as One of the Pirates

THAT the defence would submit substantial satisfactory evidence that Milo Eggers, charged with robbery with violence, arising out of the hijacking on March 1924, of the liquor-carrying launch Hades, in Peter's Cove, at the south end of North Pender Island; the wounding of Elmar Larum, the helmsman of the craft, and the theft of ninety-two cases of Scotch whisky, was not anywhere in the vicinity of the crime on the date stated, was the announcement made to the petit jury in the trial of Rex vs. Milo Eggers, by Mr. J. A. Russell, of Vancouver, defence counsel, in the Assize Court here yesterday afternoon after the Crown had rested its case.

Following the testimony of eight witnesses for the Crown, who unfolded a dramatic story of piracy which involved the capture under arms of two liquor running launches at Pender Island, and a volley of shots which rattled the Canadian launch Hades and struck her pilot four times in the body, Mr. Russell moved for dismissal of the charge.

Mr. Russell contended that the Crown had adduced no evidence connecting the accused, Milo Eggers, with the crime, and asked His Lordship to dispose of the case without sending the jury to bed.

OBJECTION RAISED

Objection to such a course was raised by Crown Prosecutor Archie M. Johnson, K.C., who contended that while the identification evidence of the Crown was not strong, yet as long as there was some identification testimony, the case was one for a petit jury to deal with.

His Lordship stated that it was not his province to take the matter from the jury if the Crown felt there was any suggestion of a case at all, and in view of Crown prosecutor's intimation, he would rule that defence be entered.

TORNADO KILLS FOUR PERSONS

ARKANSAS VILLAGE WRECKED—SURROUNDING COUNTRY DAMAGED

Under and Injured Are Crushed and Falling Timbers of Their Homes

BLITHEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 12.—Four persons are dead, fourteen injured, and more than a score of business buildings and dwellings in ruins tonight following a tornado which dipped into the northeastern tip of Mississippi County last night and vented its fury on the village of Dell, eleven miles southeast of Blitheville. Property damage was estimated at $100,000. All of the dead and most of the injured were crushed under falling timbers of their homes. Two negroes were injured when the storm struck a suburb of Blitheville, and several others were hurt on plantations between this city and Dell.

W. P. Winn, a justice of the peace at Dell, and his wife and Austin Hardin, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. A. Hardin, were killed. The injured include John Hardin, husband of the woman killed, and three other members of the Hardin family, and six members of the family of J. T. Grant. The Hardin home, directly in the path of the storm, was demolished and the bodies of the two persons killed there were carried about 100 yards from the wreckage of the house.

WEATHER DELAYS PLANE FROM FRANCE

ST. LOUIS, Senegal, Oct. 12.—Unfavorable weather conditions and the heaviness of the landing field here compelled Diedonne Costes and Lieutenant Joseph Lebrun to postpone their scheduled start late today on their long transatlantic hop to Port Natal, Brazil, until tomorrow morning at 2 o'clock.

Flight Postponed

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Oct. 12.—Storms increasing in intensity faster than the tide receded tonight, forced postponement of the flight of the "Daunt" from Old Orchard to Copenhagen, Denmark.

Founder and Successor

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

HON. R. B. BENNETT

SIR John A. Macdonald was first Premier of the Dominion of Canada. He welded into one united political body men from the various provinces included in Confederation, and may well be described as the founder of the Conservative party of this country. Hon. R. B. Bennett now becomes his successor in carrying on the work Sir John began.

Postmaster Bishop Is Superannuated After Many Years' Service

POSTMASTER H. F. Bishop has been superannuated by the Dominion Government after nearly thirteen years' service as postmaster at Victoria. Announcement to this effect was made by Mr. Bishop yesterday. With notification of his superannuation came the announcement that he had been appointed special representative at Victoria of the Dominion Government Annuitants.

Mr. Bishop is an outstanding figure, not only in this city but also of the province. His career dates back to the time when he was employed as purser on board Captain John Irving's ships operating in the Pacific. Mr. Bishop saw the introduction of steamboats to this coast after the Beaver had proved that they were serviceable. He left the employ of Captain Irving in 1881 and served the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company.

Mr. Bishop was first employed as purser on the company's coastwise vessel, and was purser on the historic coastwise steamer Islander during the Klondike gold rush. Many are the interesting yarns that Mr. Bishop tells of his experiences during the gold rush days. His most vivid experience and one that is not pleasant, is that of the sinking of the Islander, which took a heavy toll of lives.

Mr. Bishop was in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company and its successor, the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, from 1881, when paddle wheel steamers were the usual means of transportation to and from the mainland, until 1914, when he was appointed postmaster for Victoria. A period of thirty-one years. After serving for some years as purser on several of the coast steamers, he was appointed wharf agent here for the company, which position he held until his appointment to the postoffice.

Mr. George Gardiner, who came here from Winnipeg to fill the post of assistant postmaster, was appointed postmaster until a definite appointment is made.

During the years 1909, 1910 and 1911 Mr. Bishop took an active interest in civic affairs. During those years he held office as alderman on the City Council.

NO ROUTE IS RECOMMENDED

PEACE RIVER RAIL CONNECTION FAVORED, WITH NO CHOICE OF LOCATION

Project as Submitted to Winnipeg Convention by B.C. Delegation Is Modified by Committee

(By Staff Correspondent) WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—A resolution passed the National Conservative Convention today in favor of the early construction of railway communication into the Peace River. This resolution was approved by the committee, instead of the original one presented from the British Columbia delegation, which went into the subject by suggesting building from Prince George.

The present resolution leaves the position an open one as to what route shall be taken. It found favor with the whole convention. It simply urges early construction of connection by the most feasible route.

(By Staff Correspondent) WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—A resolution passed the National Conservative Convention today in favor of the early construction of railway communication into the Peace River. This resolution was approved by the committee, instead of the original one presented from the British Columbia delegation, which went into the subject by suggesting building from Prince George.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, for British Columbia, denied that the resolution was as represented by Sir George. He pointed out that all Canada asked was the same right as Australia, New Zealand and South Africa exercised for years. The United States had an absolute exclusion law which seemed to be no barrier to trade.

The amendment of Sir George Foster was lost and the original motion was carried by a very large majority.

PEER'S WIFE ASKED TO BECOME CANDIDATE

SOUTHEAST-ON-SEA, England, Oct. 12.—There is a possibility that another titled lady may soon be a member of the House of Commons. This prospect has grown out of the death of Earl Iveagh, head of the Guinness Brewing Co., whose son, Viscount Elveden, succeeding to the title, has been forced to resign his seat in the House of Commons.

The chairman of the Conservative Association in South-east-on-Sea has now asked the new Countess Iveagh to be the Conservative candidate at the forthcoming by-election to succeed her husband.

HON. R. B. BENNETT AS HEAD OF PARTY RECEIVES OVATION

LEADER HAS LIFE STORY OF SUCCESS

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Coming West at Age of 27, Has Record of Achievement in Province of Alberta

BORN BY ATLANTIC OF U.E.L. DESCENT

Ability of Hard-Working Youth Attracted Attention of Dean of Law School

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—Since early manhood Mr. R. B. Bennett, chosen as national Conservative leader, has been active in political life. In his early twenties he participated in the municipal politics of Chatham, N.B., where he commenced the practice of law after being admitted to the bar of the province in 1893. It was in 1890, at Hopewell, N.B., that Mr. Bennett met his wife, Mrs. Mary Bennett. His father was of United Empire Loyalist descent. He taught school, read law and later attended Dalhousie University. In 1897 Mr. Bennett went to Calgary, and in the following year, at the age of twenty-eight, he was elected to the Legislature of the Northwest Territories for the district of West Calgary, which he now represents in the House of Commons.

He retained his seat until 1905, although he was defeated as a candidate for the Federal House in 1900. In 1905 he was defeated in Calgary for the Alberta Legislature, but was returned in 1909. Mr. Bennett was also in the House of Commons in 1911, at the time of the general election, and in 1921 was taken into the reorganized Cabinet under Premier Meighen as Minister of Justice. He was defeated in 1921, but re-elected in 1925 and again in 1926.

WINNING HIS WAY

The rise of the new Conservative leader from the comparative obscurity of his youth spent in a New Brunswick village to a middle age which sees him, as he himself stated in accepting the leadership today, "a man of considerable wealth—wealth accumulated through capitalized opportunity on the great Western plains—reads like a romance and can be paralleled only by the brilliant success achieved by the youth who read law with him in the same office and during the same years in Chatham, N.B. Mr. Max Aitken, now Lord Beaverbrook.

Second Ransom Demanded By Chinese General

FOO CHOW, China, Oct. 12.—Scores were injured in a street battle today between parading students and soldiers of Tang Hauching, the provincial military chieftain. The students were demanding the immediate acquisition of the Tang Hauching, following upon the latter's demand for a million Mexican dollars for leaving. He is accused of having seized the district. The populace have paid a half million and refused to pay more. Tang Hauching has fled to a monastery in the countryside and threatens further reprisals against the district unless the other half million is paid. The inhabitants are alarmed and fear more serious clashes. Nationalist troops from Nanking are en route here seeking to oust Tang Hauching.

NANKING MINISTER'S WIFE IMPRISONED BY PEKING GOVERNMENT

TIENTSIN, China, Oct. 12.—After Madame C. C. Wu, wife of the Nanking Nationalist Foreign Minister, had been held incommunicado for more than thirty-six hours, the authorities this afternoon permitted her release. Lady Hsiao, who is a British subject, and other female relatives, to visit the prisoner. They talked with her for more than an hour.

The military police officers told Lady Hsiao that they had wired the Manchurian general, Chang Tung-ching, urging that he give them permission to release the prisoner, against whom no charge could be brought.

Military guards have been posted outside the district where Madame Wu is a prisoner, and the wife of a military officer is in constant attendance on her.

Thrilling Address Made to Convention by New Leader in Accepting Post Assigned—Private Career and Interests Renounced for Fulfilment of New Duties

Party May Hope to Serve True Welfare of Nation

Opportunity Is Presented to Conservatives to Act as Instrument for Advancement of National Life—Canada's Future One of Unlimited Expansion

AMPHITHEATRE, WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—Hon. R. B. Bennett is the new leader of the Conservative party. On the second ballot the convention late this afternoon accorded him two more votes than the necessary one-half of all votes cast. The second ballot stood: Bennett, 780; Guthrie, 320; Cahan, 266; Manion, 148; Rogers, 37; Drayton, 3. Total, 1,554.

When Mr. Bennett's victory was announced, delegates and spectators rose in wild applause.

Mr. Guthrie, seconded by Mr. Cahan, moved that the election be made unanimous. The motion carried with a shout. All the other candidates then came forward to pledge Mr. Bennett their loyal and unreserved support.

The convention again broke into a thunder of applause as the new chieftain advanced to the centre of the platform.

It was very difficult, Mr. Bennett said, for him to find words with which to express his sentiment. "I thank you for your words and more than generous support which was wholly unmerited," he said. Mr. Bennett recalled that men occasionally attended some great religious edifice for the purpose of renouncing many things and in order to be consecrated to a life service. The feeling might be different about a meeting of this nature, but Mr. Bennett felt that the delegates had endeavored to set him aside for a life of service to Canada.

"He could think of no more apparent reply than to quote from the Scriptures: 'Whosoever will be chief among you, let him be the servant of all.'"

"You have made me your leader for the time, and please God that I may be your faithful servant," Mr. Bennett added, while cheers drowned the sound of his remark. He pleaded for the wholehearted cooperation of the rank and file in discharging their duties and responsibilities as citizens of a great Dominion.

"If each of you must see to it that an educated democracy governs the destinies of Canada, if you have all become part of the great Conservative policies, the party will act as an instrument for good in the development of our country and in the advancement of our national life."

WILD APPLAUSE GREET'S CHOICE

ELECTION OF HON. R. B. BENNETT MADE UNANIMOUS BY OTHER CANDIDATES

All Join in Support of New Leader—Party United From End to End of Country

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—The first ballot for leader of the Conservative National Convention here this afternoon resulted as follows: Bennett, 594; Rogers, 114; Guthrie, 345; Manion, 170; Drayton, 31; Cahan, 310. Total votes cast, 1,554.

On the second ballot, the vote was: Bennett, 780; Guthrie, 320; Cahan, 266; Manion, 148; Rogers, 37; Drayton, 3. Total, 1,554.

To secure election Mr. Bennett needed to have 778 votes; he actually secured 780.

Mr. Bennett led from the first ballot. In this Mr. Bennett secured 594 votes, or 249 more than Mr. Guthrie, who came second. But although well ahead, Mr. Bennett still needed 139 votes to secure the necessary majority of all votes cast. The second balloting saw a swinging of votes towards Mr. Bennett. From 594 in the first ballot he rose to 780 in the second. Hon. Hugh Guthrie dropped from 345 to 320; Hon. R. J. Manion from 170 to 148; C. H. Cahan from 310 to 266; Hon. Robert Rogers from 114 to 37; Sir Henry Drayton from 31 to 3.

MADE UNANIMOUS

Hon. Hugh Guthrie moved to make the election of Mr. Bennett unanimous. "We now have the result of the vote and it is a matter for satisfaction that it is so decisive," he declared. "It gives me great pleasure," he added, "to move that the election of Mr. Bennett be made unanimous." Mr. C. H. Cahan seconded the motion.

New Zealand to End Preference Given on Paper

AUCKLAND, Oct. 12 (Vancouver Province Cable).—A detriment to the paper trade of Canada as well as Britain is forecast as a result of the new tariff which moves the duty on a large class of printing and writing papers in sheets, thus bringing Canadian and Empire exportations in line with the foreign. Formerly the foreign products paid a twenty per cent ad valorem duty and in some quarters of the trade the change is viewed with concern, as it is felt that a severe blow will be struck at Empire trade. One trader estimates that at least half the trade will go to foreign countries. Another merchant says that several firms have cancelled orders for Empire products and are awaiting events.

COURT IMPOSES DEATH SENTENCE

Vancouver Judge Condemns Two Convicted Prisoners to Hang on January 6

VANCOUVER, Oct. 12.—The second death sentence in the present sitting of the assize court was imposed tonight by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald after a jury had found Yuichi Yaki, Japanese, guilty of the murder of Mrs. Take Takahashi September 11. He was sentenced to hang on January 6. Geoffrey Donald was yesterday sentenced to die on the same date for the murder of his wife.

Asked by Mr. Justice Macdonald if he had anything to say, before sentence was passed, Yaki said: "I feel I have been deceived by the woman, so I don't think I should be sentenced."

His Lordship said he would not refer to the statement.

"Canadian courts in the administration of justice recognize no nationality, no religion, environment, or social position," Mr. Justice Macdonald said. "You are not right to assume the different moral of another country, but must follow the principles of British law and British justice."

Throughout the opening day of the trial Milo Eggers, seated in the prisoner's dock beside a Prototyp Police constable, appeared quiet and reserved. Young, fair complexioned and slightly built, his hair brushed back straight over his forehead, Milo listened attentively to testimony given by the eight Crown witnesses and two defence witnesses called yesterday.

Two Defence Witnesses

Only two witnesses for the defence took the stand prior to adjournment at 4:45 p.m., until 10:30 o'clock this morning. Chris Olsen, of the Olsen Fish & Cold Storage Company, testified that Milo Eggers had worked in repacking some codfish that witness sold through Theodore Eggers, father of the accused. Olsen said he had seen Eggers in his office in Seattle on March 4, 1924, the date on which the Crown alleges Milo participated in the hijacking expedition in Canadian waters the sum of $28,000 by repacking seventy barrels of fish, and Milo had given him a receipt dated March 4. Milo's work on that job occupied three or four days, but he was not certain what day the accused stopped working for him, witness stated.

Cross-examined by Crown Prosecutor Johnson, witness said he paid Milo $28 in cash. He did not recall what bills he gave him, nor what he did that night. The receipt dated March 4, recalled Milo's presence in the memory of the witness. Olsen was interrogated concerning the time he left his premises the night in question. Witness presumed it was about 5 o'clock or after, as he usually went home at that time until the railroad employees begin shooting the bus drivers.

Five or Six Nations

VANCOUVER, Oct. 12.—Henri Bourassa, M.P., told the Canadian Problems Club today that "Canada consists of five or six nations within one, divided by many geographic barriers which impose very real obstacles to the union of its parts."

"Motor buses are taking the passenger business from the railroads at an alarming rate," he said.

"Yes, indeed," responded old Fessenden. "It seems only a question of time until the railroad employees begin shooting the bus drivers."

Denies "Fantastic" Report

LEADER HAS LIFE STORY OF SUCCESS

After his school hours in Chatham, Mr. Bennett as a young man studied hard at law, and his assiduity attracted the attention of Dr. Weidon, who was dean of the Dalhousie Law School at Halifax, and also Federal member for the County of Albert.

Dean Weidon secured Mr. Bennett's appointment as librarian at the law school and from this institution he graduated at the age of twenty-three.

Returning to Chatham he associated himself with the firm with which he had passed his years of study—that of Mr. L. J. Tweedie, who became a Premier and eventually Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick.

In his youth and young manhood Mr. Bennett was an ardent church and temperance worker and was also a political speaker of unusual force. It was from his mother that he inherited his political ambitions and, as he himself said, his success.

"All I am, all I ever expect to be, I owe to you, mother," was what he wrote when he became a member of the Dominion government.

COMING WEST

Dr. Weidon, following Mr. Bennett's graduation, again befriended the young man, when in 1897, he again recommended "Dick Bennett" to Sir James Lougheed, who was looking for a wide awake young man to share his work in Calgary.

Senator Lougheed was then solicitor for the Canadian Pacific Railway. In the West Mr. Bennett's enterprises prospered and he became known as a capable lawyer, a capable political speaker and a loyal Westerner.

Associated thus in an unusual way with the varied life of Canada, through his early life and his present educational interests in the Maritime provinces (Mr. Bennett is a member of the Board of Governors of the Dalhousie University and a director of the Dalhousie Quarterly Review), his important business connections in the province of Quebec, where he has the controlling interest in the E. B. Eddy Company, of Hull, Que., his directorships in companies whose ramifications extend to other provinces, and his present connection in Western Canada where his home is, the new leader is broadly national.

LIKE ROMANCE

The position in which he finds himself as practical owner of the Eddy Company was a development of the friendships he made in his youth. In his early church work he had as helpers Jennie and Harry Shireff, and the friendship made then had an unusual and almost fairy tale result. In 1894 Jennie Shireff married Ezra Butler Eddy, of Ottawa, founder of the E. B. Eddy Company. Twelve years later when Mr. Eddy died he established a trust whereby at the end of ten years his widow inherited unconditionally the five-eighths of his estate. In 1921 Mrs. Eddy died and she also established a trust which was not to be broken for five years, appointing her brother, Harry Shireff, and Richard B. Bennett, the friend of her youth, executors. She bequeathed 500 shares to Mr. Bennett and 1,008 to her brother, Harry Shireff, who did not survive the trusteeship. He died in 1926 and bequeathed his 1,008 shares to Mr. Bennett. The new leader thus came into control of the company whose shares numbered 3,000.

Like Mr. Mackenzie King, whom he will face across the floor of the House of Commons, and who this evening sent him a telegram of congratulation on his selection as Conservative leader, Mr. Bennett is unmarried. He is a member of the Board of the Club of Calgary and the Rideau and Country Clubs of Ottawa.

Judge Approves Publicity For Divorce Cases

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Publicity for divorce cases should be permitted because it is a proved deterrent to divorce, in the opinion of Judge Joseph S. Bath of the Chicago Superior Court, just returned from Europe.

The divorce rate in England and Switzerland has been doubled since publication of proceedings has been forbidden, Judge Bath declared. He approved, however, of the stricter marriage laws he found in Europe and of the practice of appearance before a reconciliation judge before institution of formal divorce action.

Judge Bath has tried 26,000 divorce cases.

Weather Holds Plane

DESSAU, Germany, Oct. 12.—The Junkers plane D-1230, which is at Lisbon, Portugal, is not awaiting the arrival of the Heinkel hydroplane D-1230, which began the first leg of a projected flight to America today. The Junkers works announced in a statement today.

They said a joint flight of both planes to America was not contemplated nor was motor trouble or any other technical trouble the cause of the delay in the take-off of the D-1230 for America. Unfavorable weather conditions for the westward flight was the only cause of the plane's delayed take-off.

Announcing the New Overcoats Just Received

LORD CHESTERFIELD was a great authority on the styles of his day, and among his writings is found much advice on clothes. His name still clings to the Chesterfield Coat model, as well as sundry other things that are attractive to modern men. He emphasizes the practice of good taste, knowing wherein the foundation of good clothes lies. "Next to clothes being fine," he says, "they should be well made, and worn easily." It is in "clothes well made" that we best serve the correctly dressed man of today.

Mysterious thefts which have been occurring for several years in the official residence of the Finance Minister of Nagatoko, Japan, have baffled the Japanese police. Despite the fact that the brick building is guarded by policemen day and night, the thefts happen frequently. Costly gifts, flower vases and even bottles of beer have been taken. One janitor, who was suspected, went insane and was forced to retire, but the pilfering continued.

Vicar Explains The Right Way To Get Married

Unusual instructions to those about to marry are given by the Rev. G. H. Ennor, Vicar of Leyland, Lancashire, in his parish magazine. The Vicar states that the service over "remember there should be no kissing on the church steps. Leave that until you reach the vestry, and even then don't expect the clergyman to kiss the bride. That sort of thing isn't done except by sloppy bachelor parsons.

"When the bride reaches the church steps she should find the bridegroom facing the holy table with his best man on his right hand, and the bridegroom should not look round as she comes up from behind him until she reaches his side, and then he only looks to make sure she is the right girl and not somebody else.

"The banns should be brought to the vicar by the intending bridegroom and not left to his young lady to arrange. The best man pays the fees, and takes care that the bridegroom does not leave his hat in the vestry."

The vicar adds: "These notes are given in detail since we have had scarcely a wedding in our parish church during the past three years where the above mistakes have not been made."

M. BOURASSA TO SPEAK HERE

French Canadian Nationalist Leader Will Address the Canadian Club Tomorrow

SKETCH OF CAREER OF ELOQUENT CRITIC

Mr. Henri Bourassa, M.P., who is making a Canadian tour, and is in British Columbia for the first time in thirty years, will speak tomorrow to the Canadian Club at 6:30 o'clock at the Empress Hotel.

The following sketch of the French Canadian Nationalist leader is contributed to The Colonist by Western friends.

Mr. Henri Bourassa, M.P., directeur Le Devoir, of Montreal, was born in that city in 1868, and is therefore exactly fifty-nine years of age. He is the son of Napoleon Bourassa, an eminent French Canadian author and painter, who had married a daughter of Louis Joseph Papineau, the great French Canadian statesman and tribune.

Henri Bourassa was educated by private tuition in his native city, and in 1888 he removed to Montreal, so long the seigneurial home of his distinguished grandfather. He was Mayor of Montebello from 1890 to 1894, and in 1897 was elected Mayor of Papineauville.

BEGAN AS LIBERAL

At the general election of 1896 he was elected as a Liberal to represent LaBelle in the House of Commons but resigned his seat in 1899 in order to vindicate the position he had taken on the constitutional aspect of the participation of Canada in the South African war. He was re-elected by acclamation and was again returned at the general elections of 1900 and 1904.

He subsequently left the Federal arena to enter Quebec politics, and in the provincial general election of 1908 he was returned both by St. James division and Ste. Hyacinthe, defeating in the former division after a memorable contest, the Prime Minister of the province, Sir Lomer Gouin. As a result of his trenchant criticism against the administration of the time on the floor of the Legislature, two Quebec Cabinet Ministers were forced to resign.

FOUNDS LE DEVOIR

It was at this that he decided to found an independent newspaper, and for a couple of years he was busily engaged in organizing and financing Le Devoir, which he has directed since that time and which, according to Professor F. W. Oxborne, of the Manitoba University, stands out pre-eminent as the finest news sheet in the Province of Quebec. Mr. Bourassa re-entered the Federal arena in 1925, being elected by a very large majority over his political opponent in his old constituency of LaBelle. He was re-elected again in 1926 by an enormous majority over his two opponents, both of them losing their deposits.

Mr. Bourassa is a widower and the father of a typical French Canadian family of eight children, his wife having died in 1918. This left him with additional responsibility, not only for providing the home, but mothering the children also.

OUTSTANDING SPEAKER

According to Mr. John Boyd, the biographer of the late Sir George Etienne Cartier, Mr. Bourassa is the most outstanding public speaker and orator of contemporary French Canadian. Contrary to the popular belief existing to a large extent in the English-speaking Canadian provinces, Mr. Bourassa is, according to the above author, cited, one of the best informed men on various aspects of British life and British history.

In matters of policy, Mr. Bourassa is essentially pro-Canadian. In relations with the mother country, his stand is well known, whether it be in the matter of trade, diplomacy or imperial defence, his position on imperial relations is at times challenged. No one, however, has ever doubted his sincerity and intense love for Canada.

STUDY NATURE'S LAWS

All must realize that in every living creature there are wonderful forces constantly at work in an attempt to regulate the normal functions of that organism. There are definite, fixed laws regulating the structure and function of each particular part of the great universe. These laws are unchangeable, and do not admit of the slightest modification.

In the chemical realm we know, for instance, that an acid always neutralizes an alkali. Likewise, the youngest schoolboy knows that water always runs downhill. Easily understood laws.

Cause and effect work in just the same manner in the human body. If you are sick it is always because you have broken some of nature's laws, whether in ignorance or with the same carelessness you exhibit in violating civil regulations. Man-

LESS NERVOUSNESS—MORE APPETITE AS HUSKY IS USED

Victoria Woman Was So Weak and Run Down She Couldn't Even Digest Food—Now Feels Fine.

One of the first indications of a run down state of health is loss of appetite and failure of food to digest and this trouble had gotten to an advanced stage when Mrs. Anna Saunders, of R.M.D. No. 2, Victoria, began using "Husky," the best preparation, now distributed by the MacFarlane Drug Co.

But "Husky" is especially intended to relieve unhealthy conditions of the vital organs and Mrs. Saunders found it to be just the medicine for her. She says: "I had gotten in a very weak and nervous condition. I lost my appetite and then when I did eat, anything I run down in every way. "Then I decided to try Husky and it is a mighty good thing I did for since I've used several bottles of this medicine I am feeling like a new person. I have gained a fine appetite and am not bothered with indigestion. I don't feel nervous and weak like before and I just feel better in every way."

Anyone suffering from a run down condition of health or of any of these ailments resulting from disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels, would do well to investigate Husky.

made laws are often broken without one paying the penalty imposed, but this is never true when you disregard the unchangeable and fixed laws of nature.

Through the countless ages of man's development the various changing conditions of man's environment, his increasing intelligence and his relation to society, all have made necessary different regulations of moral and physical conduct, but the rules governing the normal order of the natural processes in the physical body were made by the Creator, and those have not been changed or modified in the slightest degree. It remains only for you to study these rules and live so in harmony with them that you may enjoy the health to which you are entitled.

The science of chemistry has progressed to its present usefulness because of the indefatigable research of scientists, resulting in the discovery of new laws of chemistry. Do not forget that no new laws have been created—only remember that the oldest scientist can do no more than discover nature's laws, which have already existed since infinite intelligence created the universe. The mystery of life becomes infinitely more interesting as we search to discover the hidden and unrevealed secrets of nature.

The physical body is but the boat in which you are to cross the ocean of life. Study it well, and you will be a better navigator than those who are satisfied to call you a "health crank."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: I.M. writes—"I can't digest my food and I feel nauseated all the time. The doctor said it was my gall-bladder and gave me medicine. I do all right as long as I take a dose before eating, but I can't take the rest of my life. I have always been able to eat everything. Now when I have a bad spell I can't eat anything for a few days."

Answer: It is because you have "eaten everything" that you are now not able to eat anything. Just give nature a chance by taking a fast and allowing the gall-bladder and liver to empty out and catch up with their work. If medicines relieve you, it is a sure thing that a fast will cure you. After that, regulate your diet scientifically, and stop "eating everything."

Question: Mrs. H.P. writes—"I years had a mostoid operation which for several months relieved the pain, but terrible fullness and dizziness, but I am now suffering with these same symptoms. The doctor says this trouble I now have is probably due to my teeth. I don't think so as it is exactly what I had before the operation. Can you suggest any relief?"

Answer: It is unwise for me to make a guess about your trouble, which has been guessed about enough already. Have a good diagnosis made and thus ascertain the real cause of your symptoms. If you are then not helped, write me the result of the diagnosis and I will advise you again, either through this column or directly by mail if you will enclose self-addressed envelope the next time you write.

FRASER TOLMIE CASE IS OVER

Crown Accepts the Grand Jury's Finding in Manslaughter Indictment, Mr. Johnson, K.C., Tells Court

TWO TRUE BILLS ARE BROUGHT IN

"Notwithstanding the fact that the Grand Jury has seen fit to bring in a 'no bill' on this manslaughter charge against William Fraser Tolmie, I communicated with the Attorney-General's Department to see if I should still prefer an indictment against Tolmie. I have this morning received instructions to accept the Grand Jury's finding, and the Crown is satisfied for the bond to be released," declared Mr. Archie M. Johnson, K.C., Crown prosecutor, in addressing the Assize Court yesterday morning at the Court House here.

The matter was raised before Mr. Justice Murphy by Mr. Oscar Bass, counsel for Tolmie, when he made application to His Lordship for the release of Tolmie's bail bond and his discharge, in view of the action of the Grand Jury in the case of Rex vs. Tolmie.

Mr. Justice Murphy ordered the release of the bond of Tolmie, who was committed for trial in the City Police Court on a charge of manslaughter, arising out of the death of Miss Jean Coddington, who was riding in the automobile driven by Fraser Tolmie on July 25 last, when it crashed into a telephone pole on Rockland Avenue.

TRUE BILLS RETURNED
The Grand Jury returned true bills in the cases of Rex vs. James Waldron, charged with unlawfully being in possession of drugs, and Donald F. Flynn, who will be arraigned on a count of committing an offence of gross indecency in public.

In the five indictments which were dealt with by the Grand Jury, true bills were returned in the four cases of Rex vs. Jack Thomas, Rex vs. Milo Eggers, Rex vs. James Waldron, and Rex vs. Donald F. Flynn. The trial of Rex vs. Leonard Pease was traversed to the next assize, owing to the illness of the main witness for the Crown.

Mr. Justice Murphy advised the Grand Jury that it had the privilege of visiting public institutions and making reports thereon. Any recommendations which the Grand Jury would make as a result of such visits would be forwarded by His Lordship to the Provincial Government.

"Visiting public institutions is a privilege of yours, not a duty, Mr. Justice Murphy told members of the Grand Jury.

MAKES NO INSPECTION
The Grand Jury brought in its final decision on indictments presented to it, and evidently did not desire to make an inspection tour of public institutions here.

His Lordship inquired of Crown prosecutors whether they had anything else to bring before the Grand Jury.

Mr. Henry C. Hall, K.C., and Mr. A. M. Johnson, K.C., replied in the negative.

"You are discharged," His Lordship said, addressing the Grand Jury.

Mr. Edwin Tomlin was foreman of the Grand Jury, and the other members of that body were Messrs. C. L. Aylard, Hugh Ferguson, Hans Girdwood, Frederick August Gowan, Herbert T. Mason, Vincent Charles Martin, Thomas H. Plumley, William P. Pemberton, John S. Reid, Arthur B. Sanders, P. B. Scarrall and Robert E. Brett.

NOTARIES WANT TIME EXTENSION

A bill extending the time during which former notaries public may secure admission to the notaries' roll, revision of which ended last month, will be sponsored at the next session of the Legislature by veteran commissioners whose names were dropped from the list because of misapprehension.

Under legislation passed at the last session all existing notaries were required to register by September in order to retain their seals. After that date their commissions lapsed if they had failed to register and they were placed in the same category with new applicants who, under recent regulations, must pass strict examination in several branches of law.

A large number of the old-time practitioners failed to register and desire another opportunity to do so. They assert that they never heard of the rule forcing them to register before, little publicity having been given to it. The announcement of the new regulation a few days ago was their first intimation that their practice had lapsed for failure to register.

In letters to former notaries, Attorney-General Manson has intimated that he would consider legislative steps to assist them.

For a Perfect Cup of Coffee

USE Carnation Milk. Flavor, aroma, color—absolutely perfect. It really makes the coffee. And yet it costs only one-third as much as cream. It is because of the wonderful flavor and golden brown color it gives to coffee that many women have come to use Carnation in all kinds of cooking. Carnation is double-cream—and there's cream in every drop. There's no "top milk" or "bottom milk" to Carnation. The Carnation process of "homogenization" distributes the double-cream evenly throughout the tin. That is why Carnation adds so much smoothness and rich flavor wherever it is used. RESTING PLACE OF BIG METEOR FOUND

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 12.—

Scientists here at last found the resting place of the giant meteor which fell nineteen years ago in a remote region of Yehesil Province, Siberia, and, breaking into pieces like an exploding rocket, leveled a forest fifteen miles in circumference.

The Soviet Union Information Bureau here said that the site of the fallen meteor, estimated to have weighed nearly half a million tons, stretches a mile in diameter in an almost inaccessible section of a marshy forest. Falling in pieces, the heavenly body plied the ground with deep funnels from fifty to one hundred feet wide, and scorched tree trunks all over the area.

The Soviet Academy of Sciences, which made the discovery, is planning to extract the meteoric fragments, believed to consist of iron, nickel and platinum, and to photograph the terrain from airplanes.

ACCUSED TURNS STATE EVIDENCE

Everett Police Captain Gives Testimony Against State Prosecutor in Liquor Case

SEATTLE, Oct. 12.—Captain W. Ed. Crow, of the Everett police department, today turned State's evidence against Prosecutor C. T. Roscoe, of Snohomish County and five others charged with conspiracy to violate the National Prohibition Act.

The burden of Crow's testimony as to the purported existence of a gigantic Snohomish County moonshine trust in which he was an admitted principal, was directed against Prosecutor Roscoe.

At the conclusion of Captain Crow's testimony, the government rested, and Prosecutor Roscoe took the witness stand to enter a categorical denial of the federal accusations and to characterize the police official's assertions as false.

Roscoe, Crow declared, first persuaded him to enter into the conspiracy to protect Snohomish County moonshiners. The prosecutor had been receiving $1,000 a month from the "bootleg ring" consisting of some forty dealers and manufacturers, Crow said.

Thomas C. Headlee, Everett commissioner of public safety, who also a defendant in the case, likewise received $1,000 a month from the moonshiners, Crow swore.

This convention rejoices in the powers and freedom of action which Canada as a nation has attained, largely through the efforts and sacrifices of our soldiers, and pledges itself anew to the ideal of a united Canada."

which have not been implemented by necessary legislation.

Be it therefore resolved that this national convention of the Liberal-Conservative party approve and pledge itself when returned to power to the enactment of all such legislation as may be necessary to fully implement each and every recommendation made by the said commission.

PROVINCES AND RESOURCES
That in the best interests of Confederation and the economic development of Western Canada, the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta should be granted their natural resources free from restriction within the legislative competence of the Parliament of Canada, but in compliance with the letter and spirit of the legislation, and that the claims of these provinces to compensation for loss of lands and resources alienated and the claims of any other province in connection with this subject should be investigated with a view to a satisfactory and equitable adjustment.

The report of the organization committee recommends endorsement of the formation of Macdonald-Carter Clubs and other Conservative associations of young men and women. It also makes recommendations with regard to organization work throughout the country.

EX-SERVICE MEN
"That the Conservative party pledges itself in the matter of legislation regarding ex-service men and their dependents."

"A—To an administration of existing legislation, sympathy with the human spirit of such legislation and in accord with the desire of the Canadian people and to that end all essential amendments be made."

"B—For the amending of existing legislation providing for the allowing of appeals from decisions of the B.P.O. and the D.S.C. on the matter of assessment to the federal appeal board as a competent independent tribunal with full power to act."

"C—That in the matter of employment, the civil service preference be given to ex-service men and women and that the existing law be rigidly enforced and that appointments be not made on the grounds of political expediency."

"D—That in the matter of pensions to the needy aged, the minimum age be reduced to sixty years."

"E—That the recommendations of the Ralston Commission, appointed for the express purpose of investigating problems of pensions, employment and treatment, be implemented by legislation."

"F—That by recognizing agriculture as the basic industry of the country we believe every effort should be made to encourage settlers to remain on the land, and having regard to the difficulties with which they have met, amending legislation be passed to alleviate their distress, and further that existing legislation be sympathetically enforced."

"G—That this convention records its sense of national loss in the fact that in order to advance themselves such a large number of ex-service men have emigrated from Canada; further, we are fully cognizant of the high types of citizenship they represented in peace, as in war, and the great need of their presence in Canada, and their assistance in maintaining the highest plane of citizenship in our country."

ST. LAWRENCE CANAL
Whereas the improvement of the Welland Canal system by the Canadian people is nearing completion, this convention is of the opinion that the St. Lawrence Canal system as an all-Canadian project should be developed in the national interest when conditions warrant.

In such undertaking the sovereign rights of the respective provinces in the development of power shall be protected.

FREIGHT RATES ON GRAIN
Resolved, that we pledge our party to maintain the existing freight rates as a minimum on grain and grain products.

INTERPROVINCIAL HIGHWAYS
Resolved, that this convention favors the principle of federal aid for the construction of interprovincial highways and reaffirms the policy of the Conservative party in this respect.

HUDSON BAY ROUTE
Recognizing the aspirations of the people of Western Canada and the most direct means by Canadian ports, by which the products of the West, primarily grain, livestock and farm products, can be carried to the markets of the world, we pledge ourselves to the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway to the Bay at once and to provide such terminal and harbor facilities as are adequate for the operation of the route.

PEACE RIVER RAILWAY
Resolved that this convention favors the construction as soon as possible of a Pacific Coast outlet from the Peace River district by the most advantageous route.

USE OF CANADIAN PORTS
This convention reaffirms the policy of the Conservative party to promote by every effective means, the passage through Canadian ports of the products of Canada and im-

MR. BENNETT ON "CANADIANISM"

Virtue National Consciousness Ought to Be Further Developed, Leader Declares

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—"The first thing we must do in this country is to build up a strong national consciousness—a virile Canadianism," declared H. W. R. Bennett, K.C., leader of the Conservative party, while addressing the Rotary Club here today. "There is no country in the world which offers better opportunities for prosperity and happiness than Canada," Mr. Bennett added.

Development of this consciousness of national personality was not an easy task, he said, owing to the influences coming from the United States. Mr. Bennett cited the radio, with its patriotic American airs, magazines, books and newspapers written from the American viewpoint, as influences which produced a different type of Canadian than would be the case if Canada was an island such as Australia, where there is an undiluted Australianism owing to its geographical position. The need for leadership of public opinion was stressed by the speaker. "The greatest thing you and I can do is to create a sound public opinion, a sound leadership, not only to communities, but to strangers who come to us from other lands," Mr. Bennett concluded.

SALE OF BIBLES IN B.C. GROWING

COMPREHENSIVE FIGURES ARE
READ AT ANNUAL MEETING OF BIBLE SOCIETY

Rev. Henry Knox Re-elected President of Local Branch—Big Attendance Shows Interest

Nearly 30,000 Bibles are distributed annually in British Columbia, the Doukhobors of the Kootenay district alone in the last six months purchasing 1,500.

This was one of the pieces of information given by Mr. Nelson A. Harkness, provincial secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, at the annual meeting of the Victoria branch last evening at the First United Church. The meeting drew an audience of over two hundred, the speakers being Rev. Alex. Kerr, of St. Andrew's Church, Vancouver, and Mr. Harkness.

Mr. Kerr spoke of the mission of the Bible, its distinction among the books of all time. It was, he pointed out, the one inspired book which met the elemental needs of all mankind, and, understood by all peoples, it had been translated into more than eight hundred languages.

Mr. Harkness' address contained interesting statistics concerning the world-wide work of the British and Foreign Bible Society. There were now over ten million copies of the Bible distributed in the world annually, in Canada alone over 500,000 copies being sold annually. The principal feature of the work in Canada was the welcoming of incoming immigrants, every one of whom was met at the port of entry in the East by agents of the society, who presented a copy of the Scripture. To meet this need, the British and Foreign Bible Society had had the Scripture translated into the 12 dialects and languages spoken in Canada, and a copy of the Bible in "diglot" form is given to every immigrant who comes into the country, no matter from what part of the world he comes. It was explained that the "diglot" form of the Scriptures gives the English and other translation side by side in parallel columns, so that the newcomer learns at one and the same time the language of the country and its religious ideals.

A report of the finances of the society was given, showing that contributions had increased by more than $1,200 during the year, while the sale of Bibles had increased over forty per cent. These figures bore a certain relation to the world figures, the 10,000,000 Bibles sold throughout the world being the largest number on record.

Election of officers took place at the close of the addresses, Rev. Henry Knox being re-elected president for a second term.

The following is the complete roster of officers for the ensuing year: Hon. president, Mr. Arthur Lee; president, Rev. Henry Knox; secretary, Mr. E. G. Marriott; treasurer, Mr. J. H. Thompson; executive, Mr. P. McNaughton, Mrs. W. Middleton, Mr. T. W. Bird and Mr. J. F. Macpherson.

Eats Evidence

Lum Bong, charged in the city police court yesterday morning with having opium-smoking apparatus, was fined $15 and $250 costs by Magistrate Jay. Chief Fry explained during the case that a more serious charge might have been laid had not the Chinaman eaten part of the evidence. When the Chinaman was raided he put something into his mouth and ate it. This was opium, Chief Fry thought.

The Mirror of the Mode

By MARY MARSHALL

ALL sorts of ways in the world of curing the blues! I once heard of a man who, whenever he felt particularly dejected and wanted to snap out of the mood, bought a new car. A few hundred miles with a new wheel in his hands and the purr of a new engine in his ears always brought him back to normal.

Then there are women who invite friends to luncheon or tea as a cure for the doldrums. "I'm feeling terrible low," one friend of mine invariably says by way of preface to an invitation.

Some women find nothing quite so effective as an antidote to depression as the purchase of a new hat. Now, when I'm feeling rather down, I buy a new bouquet of flowers. Just the sight of the counter where all sorts of gaily colored blossoms of silk and velvet, georgette, glass and feathers bloom, fills me with optimism.

Fortunately the fashion for shoulder flowers and boutonnières goes merrily on. And every season there are new fashions in flowers that give new zest to wearing them. Morning glories or convolvulus has just been promoted to a place of importance, and they may be charmingly worn trailing gracefully from the shoulder of an evening frock.

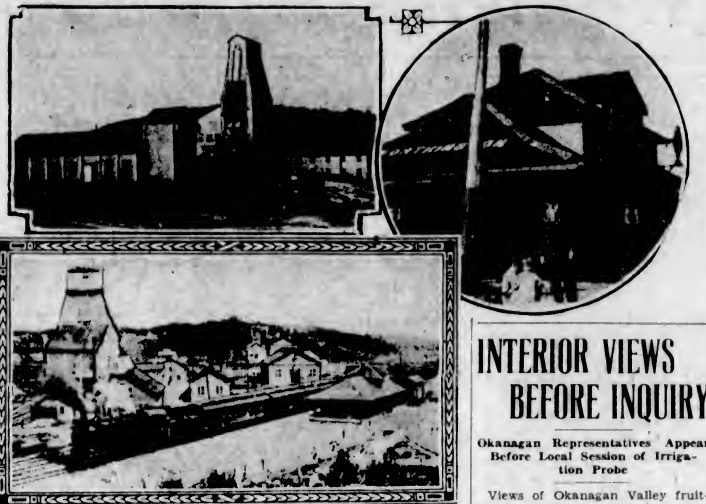

Autumn leaves in rich browns and tawny reds are well chosen to go with daytime frocks of brown. At polo not very long ago Irene Castle wore a plain brown tailored suit with a beige felt hat and a walking stick. On her shoulder was a bouquet of orchids—real orchids, I suppose. We thought the combination of orchid tints and the beige and brown was remarkably attractive.

The good cook knows how to take a little of this and a little of that and make it into a toothsome entree or tempting salad, whether or not there is anything in any of the recipe books about just that sort of combination. The good dressmaker frequently makes a charming frock from a short length of this material and a short length of that, and this is something that the home dressmaker frequently wants to do in making use of remnants or in remodeling old frocks.

Recently I saw a charming frock combined of two different materials of different colors—obviously from choice rather than necessity. They were put together with tapestry. If you are interested in this problem of making your own clothes, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will send you a sketch of this frock with diagram and instructions for doing the tapestry.

Swallowed Up When Mine Shaft Caves In

ABOVE are photos of the Worthington mine, of the Mond Nickel Company, near Sudbury, Ont., which was completely wrecked when the shaft collapsed. Above, on the left, is a picture of the section of the mine and of the town which is now more than one hundred feet below the level of the earth. The building in the front is the powerhouse, now a mass of ruins. On the right is a photograph of the Canadian Pacific Railway Station which was left tottering on the brink of a 150-foot precipice. In the foreground the C.P.R. tracks, which sank in the collapse, are shown. Below is a general view of the town, with the C.P.R. tracks and station and the powerhouse and shaft head in the foreground. Practically all of the town shown in this picture has sunk with the cave-in.

BUILDING REPORT SHOWS INCREASE

Figures This Year Will Pass $2,000,000 Mark, Mr. Alfred Carmichael Predicts

Building permit figures in Victoria this year will pass the $2,000,000 mark, Mr. Alfred Carmichael predicted at yesterday's meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board at the Chamber of Commerce.

The total for the first nine months of the year is already far in excess of the twelve-month aggregate for 1926.

Mr. Carmichael presented comparative data showing the increase in building permits in the last few months. From January 1 to September 30, 1926, the total of building permit figures of the four municipalities was $1,011,256. In the first nine months of this year Victoria alone has passed the figure with a total of $1,039,132 in permits. This year's total for the four municipalities together reaches $1,742,208 already and last year's total for the full twelve-month period was $1,343,098.

The following comparisons show the progress in this direction. They were read to the realtors in session yesterday and received with enthusiasm: 1926—Victoria, $698,259; Oak Bay, $349,843; Esquimalt, $45,275; Saanich, $249,741. For 1927—Victoria (in nine months), $1,039,132; Oak Bay, $459,490; Esquimalt, $36,815; and Saanich, $185,791. From these figures it will be seen that Oak Bay and Victoria have both during the case that a more serious charge might have been laid had not the Chinaman eaten part of the evidence. When the Chinaman was raided he put something into his mouth and ate it. This was opium, Chief Fry thought.

"This will be a record for this city for the year," said Mr. Carmichael. "It shows that some women find nothing quite so effective as an antidote to depression as the purchase of a new hat."

Now, when I'm feeling rather down, I buy a new bouquet of flowers. Just the sight of the counter where all sorts of gaily colored blossoms of silk and velvet, georgette, glass and feathers bloom, fills me with optimism.

INTERIOR VIEWS BEFORE INQUIRY

Okanagan Representatives Appear Before Local Session of Irrigation Probe

Views of Okanagan Valley fruit-growing interests yesterday, were laid before Major W. G. Swan, irrigation inquiry commissioner, at a session at the Parliament Buildings. By Order-in-Council, Major Swan was appointed a commissioner on July 22, this year, to inquire into economic conditions in those interior districts where irrigation works have been financed by the Government out of the Conservation Fund.

Divergent viewpoints were presented by the Okanagan representatives at yesterday's session. Conditions in some districts were said to be so poor that repayment of Government advances seemed doubtful at present. Representatives of other districts affirm an ability to meet payments as they fall due, and requested additional advances to effect further improvements in the waterworks systems.

Major Swan also heard evidence of Major J. C. MacDonald, principal comptroller of water rights, of other departmental officials and of Mr. E. A. Cleveland, former provincial controller, and now sole water commissioner for the Greater Vancouver Water District.

General good feeling prevailed among the delegates who were quite satisfied with the way in which the inquiry was conducted.

The commissioner's finding will be brought down in about two weeks' time, it is expected.

The principal districts falling within the scope of the investigation, which has been proceeding for about two months, include Vernon, Kelowna, Westbank, Peachland, Naramatta, Grand Forks and Heffley.

Tourist Gives His Opinion of Capital City

Among opinions expressed by American visitors who have visited Victoria is one expressed in The Studebaker Wheel by Mr. Harry E. Macpherson, of a motor tour from Tijuana via the Pacific Highway to Victoria.

Mr. Macpherson has the following remarks to make about Victoria: "Crossing on the ferry from Seattle to Victoria the imaginary boundary line between the two cities is crossed, and the character of conversation, when one arrives at the quaint old capital of British Columbia. There you hear English, the English of Row Bells, of Oxford and of the hurrying, heaving Highlands, curiously intermingled with the Canadian tongue."

"Victoria is much less Canadian than a British city, and, in the ancient cobbled pavements, veritable 'bobbies' for policemen, a castle armory which might be in England, a kilted bagpipe band, and citizens whose r's cascade in a fashion which gives away their Scottish ancestry. There are no cafeterias and the police take a day off on Sunday. You are not allowed to burn anything but dimmers on your automobiles at night and gentlemen prefer walking sticks," he concludes.

Toronto Varsity Yell Being Given

It is not often that the Toronto Varsity yell is heard in Victoria. But a rousing delivery of the college cry is to be a feature of the University Women's Club ball, which will take place at the Empress Hotel on Thursday, November 3.

Elaborate preparations are under way for the forthcoming event, and patrons are assured of a gay evening. Not only are there to be pretty decorations and novel lighting effects to enhance the beauty of the scene, but several feature dances which have not previously been seen in the city are to be on the programme. Mrs. Dorothy Wilson and Mr. Busanoff, who have recently opened a school of ballet dancing here, having consented to give some novelty dances. College colors will be shown in various ways, several of the better known Canadian college yells will be given vent to during the evening, and there are other "stunts" the nature of which is still a secret. The music will include a number of the very newest dance hits.

Tickets are on sale at Fletcher's and Litchfield's.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

I DO NOT KNOW
I do not know just why, but yet, in spite of daily toil and fret, in spite of folly and regret of some dark mood, I sense a never-failing care that lies about me everywhere and whispers, when I would despair, that life is good. I do not know just how, but still, though much I lack in gifts of skill and in the never-bending will that must prevail, feel that while I use my best of purpose, energy and zest for every struggle, every test, I shall not fail. There is no reason I can name that keeps a light this shining flame of faith, more dear than love or fame, and yet I know life is a coin not lightly spent and purpose with each act is bent, so with spirit well-content my way I go.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The tentative programme of entertainment of Lord Willington and Lady Willington at Washington, December 18, is now being worked out by the Canadian Legation and the State Department. It will be the first visit a Canadian Governor-General has made to Washington since that of the Duke of Connaught, in war years, and the first time Canadian titular head has been entertained in Washington on Canadian territory. His Excellency will exchange visits with President Coolidge and members of the Cabinet, and will be given the usual recognition of a representative of royalty.

It is understood that the visit has no special purpose except to establish personal contact between the Governor-General and heads of the United States Government.

On previous occasions the Canadian Governor-General has been a guest at the British Embassy. The difference on this occasion will be

Successful Banquet

A successful Mothers' and Daughters' banquet was held by the Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church on Tuesday evening. The hall looked very attractive, the tables being decorated with chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies and candles twined with ivy. The toast to the mothers was proposed by the president, Miss Winnie Beckwith, and was appropriately responded to by Mrs. Haverstock on behalf of the mothers. There was a musical programme, those taking part being Miss Olga Hare who played two piano solos, and Mrs. Macintosh, who sang two numbers. The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Spofford, whose subject was "The Paul Line."

"How do you like this pudding, dear? It's a recipe Mrs. James gave me over the phone."

"To be perfectly frank, my dear, it tastes as if the wires had got crossed."

Large metallic flowers are shown in various guises. The morning glories trail from the shoulder of an evening frock and the Autumn leaves are appropriate for an afternoon frock of Autumn brown. The mother-of-pearl gardenia at the lower left is chosen to co-ordinate with the tailored suit.

SOUTH SAANICH
The Junior members of the South Saanich Women's Institute met at the home of Miss Evelyn Munro, Frosier Road, for their October meeting on Saturday afternoon. Miss Doris Mitchell presided; Miss Janet Sherring gave the secretary's report, and a good deal of work was discussed. The greater part of the time was spent in the arranging of details for the annual Hallowe'en concert and dance, which will now be held on Wednesday evening, October 26, in Temperance Hall, instead of Friday evening, October 21, as was previously announced. A comic play is being prepared as well as a high-class programme of varied concert numbers, including some of the best talent in the district as well as elsewhere. Refreshments and dancing will also be enjoyed. At the conclusion of the meeting tea was served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Misses Blanche and Janet Sherring, Track Road.

ENGLISH ACTOR GIVES ADDRESS TO STUDENTS

Capt. Allen Pollock, Star of "The Bill of Divorcement," Speaks to Dramatic School

Students of the B.C. Dramatic School and their friends heard an address by Captain Allen Pollock, noted English actor, last evening on the subject of "Acting as a Profession," dealing with the technique of acting, its difficulties and its possibilities. Captain Pollock played the part of Hilary Fairford in "The Bill of Divorcement," in London.

In speaking of emotionalism, which he described as the "most difficult and one of the most important parts of acting," if used in the right way, Captain Pollock said: "Let the part get you; don't try to 'get' the part. Make your audience act; it is the duty of an actor to be a susceptible audience to himself."

He gave a number of personal experiences, many told in a humorous way. It was a revelation to many listeners to learn that "Charles's Aunt" had played every night in England for thirty-seven years, and "The Private Secretary" for as many as thirty-nine years.

After a hearty vote of thanks moved by Major Buller, Captain Pollock shook hands and chatted with the visitors.

Arion Club Bringing Two English Artists

On November 15, the Arion Club will introduce to Victoria's music lovers Miss Constance Izard, violinist, and Miss Margaret Izard, cellist, who come to Canada direct from the Queen's Hall and Albert Hall, London. Press notices just to hand are eulogistic in their comments on these artists, such papers as The Times, Morning Post, and Telegraph being especially complimentary. The Misses Izard made a most successful African tour recently, and are now preparing for their first Canadian tour. Thanks to the enterprise of the Arion Club they will be heard in this city at the Royal Victoria Theatre, and the club, in addition, will be heard in four representative numbers.

This event will inaugurate the club's thirty-sixth consecutive season. Associate members are requested to observe that this concert will not be included in the club's regular series. ## Weddings

RAMSAY-HARRIS
A quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, when Very Rev. C. S. Quantin, united in marriage Edith Mary, third daughter of the late Major F. Harris and Mrs. Harris, of Great Misenden, England, to Mr. Vivian Ramsay, of Victoria, youngest son of Mr. John Ramsay and the late Mrs. Ramsay, of London, England. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Douglas S. Harris, of Gauges, wore a pretty dress of blue crepe de Chine, with a soft velour hat to match. Her coat was of grey with collar of silver fox. There was no bridesmaid in attendance and the best man was Mr. Douglas Wilson. After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay will be in residence at 724 Vancouver Street, Victoria.

KINNEY-CULL
Christ Church Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday evening, when at 8 o'clock Very Rev. C. S. Quantin, Dean of Columbia, united in marriage Florence Edie, youngest daughter of Mr. R. Cull, and the late Mrs. Cull, to Mr. Ernest Edward Kinney, younger son of Captain C. P. and Mrs. Kinney. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white beaded georgette over duchesse satin, her veil being of silk net embroidered in silk and appliqued flowers, arranged in fan style, with bandeau of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of Ophelia roses, white gladioli and fern. Mr. L. V. Michell supported the groom. Mrs. E. Cull, of Lady-smith, acted as matron of honor, wearing rose georgette and lace with bandeau of gold leaves and carrying a sheaf of pale rose gladioli. Little Joyce and Joan Cull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cull, and nieces of the bride, made pretty flower girls dressed in pink and mauve crepe de Chine, with bandeaus and lavender bows of the same shade, and carried baskets of pink and mauve cosmos with tulle bows.

The church was prettily decorated with Autumn flowers by friends of the bride. Mr. Harold Davis presided at the organ.

A reception was held at the home of the groom, 1722 Bank Street, when the bride was assisted by Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Wilkerson and Mrs. Michell. In addition to many guests, the house decorations were of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums in the drawing-room and pale pink and rose in the kitchen. The three-tier wedding cake occupied the place of honor on the dining table, which was decorated with a large bowl of Ophelia roses and round with pink tulle, and pink candles. The bride cut the wedding cake, after which it was served by Mrs. W. Cull, refreshments being served by Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Michell and Mrs. Wilkerson.

HARTLEY-THOMAS
On Saturday evening last a pretty wedding was solemnized at the Centennial Church, Victoria, when Rev. J. P. Westman united in marriage May Elizabeth, eldest daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas, of Burnside Road, to Mr. Gordon H. E. Hartley, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hartley, Marigold. The bride, looking lovely in soft white satin covered with silver lace, and wearing the traditional veil and orange blossom wreath, was given away in marriage by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Thomas, and a sister of the groom, Miss Louise Hartley, attired respectively in blue and pink georgette and carrying bouquets of asters. The groom was supported by Eddie Thomas as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Marigold Hall, where the guests were received by the bride's mother, charmingly gowned in old rose satin, and assisted in receiving by the mother of the groom, who was wearing a pretty blue liffeta gown. A handsome three-tiered wedding cake graced the table, and a number of beautiful gifts were on view to the guests, testifying to the esteem in which the young couple were held by their many friends. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a white gold and sapphire brooch, to the bridesmaids each a pendant, and to the best man a white gold watch. The bride's gift to the groom was a gold signet ring. The young couple left amid a shower of good wishes on the midnight boat for the Mainland, where they will spend their honeymoon. On returning they will make their home in Victoria. The invited guests were as follows: Rev. Mr. Westman, Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hartley, Miss Dorothy Thomas, Miss Louise Hartley, Edward Thomas, Kenneth Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hartley,

WHEAT POOL CLAIMS SUCCESS
The latest figures show that the Canadian wheat pool, the largest farmers' co-operative in the world, has been a pronounced success, its supporters assert. Formed in the fall of 1923, it now has a membership of 142,000 farmers, and handles about 200,000,000 bushels of wheat annually, as well as from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels of other grains, with a money turnover of more than $300,000,000. # INTERCITY AMATEUR HOCKEY LEAGUE APPROVED

Bakers and Tommies Take Lead in Race for Soccer Championship

Rennie & Taylor Defeat Tillicums, 2-0, While Garrison Win From Navy by Odd Goal—Hudson's Bay Down Saanich United, 9-0

LEAGUE STANDING	W	L	D	P	A	P
Garrison	2	0	0	0	3	4
Rennie & Taylor	2	0	0	0	4	0
Hudson's Bay	1	0	1	1	5	2
Tillicums	1	0	5	4	2	0
Navy	0	2	0	1	4	0
Saanich United	0	2	0	2	18	0

Yesterday's results:
Garrison 2, Navy 1; Rennie & Taylor 2, Tillicums 0; Hudson's Bay 9, Saanich United 0.

Next week's games:
Garrison vs. Hudson's Bay at Work Point.
Rennie & Taylor vs. Saanich United at Beacon Hill, and the Navy vs. Tillicums at Royal Athletic Park.

Garrison and Rennie & Taylor's midweek soccer aggregations stepped out in front in the race for Wednesday League honors yesterday, the former club defeating the Navy 2-1 at Beacon Hill, and the latter team accounting for the Tillicums by a 2-0 verdict at the Royal Athletic Park.

BAKERS BEAT CLUBMEN

Rennie & Taylor held the Tillicums scoreless at the Royal Athletic Park, while they managed to net the ball for two counters, one in the first half and the other in the second. The bakerymen showed better combination and defensive work than their younger opponents and held the edge in both halves. Tillicums fielded a young and aggressive eleven, but their work around the goal was erratic and several golden chances went for nothing by poor shooting. With a little more experience, however, they should be a hard team to beat.

Rennie & Taylor's first team came on the verge of the half-time whistle. About fifteen minutes after the second half opened they scored their second.

The game opened up at a fast pace, with play mostly in midfield. Rennie & Taylor had the first shot on goal when Spink took a pass from Davis, but Salloway blocked well. Throughout this half play favored the bakers, with the break-aways which looked dangerous.

Rennie & Taylor were awarded a penalty shot when Davis fouled Borde, but Davis, who took the kick, intentionally shot the ball wide.

Following this the bakers went on a strong attack and scored about two minutes before the half whistle. Borde took a perfect centre from Dave Stewart and put in a beautiful shot which left Salloway flustered.

PLAY WITH TEN MEN

Rennie & Taylor were forced to play one man short after ten minutes of the second half, when J. F. Stewart was taken from the field badly hurt. Stewart was accidentally kicked in the stomach.

About five minutes after the accident John Taylor scored, when he headed Spink's pass past Salloway for the second and final goal.

Tillicums, following this, made a desperate effort to break through for a goal, but they found a stone-wall defence in front of them and left the field scoreless.

Dave Stewart, Tupman and Borde starred for the winners, while Sewell, Bissell and Hamer worked well for the losers. "Scotty" Mackay refereed, and the teams were as follows:

Rennie & Taylor—Lomas, Gilbert, Tupman, Smith, J. Stewart, Dave Stewart, Taylor, Borde, Speak, Hay and Davis.

Tillicums—Salloway, Clarke, Burns, Sewell, Hocking, Davis, Cann, Hamer, Wright, Bissell and Rigby.

GARRISON DOWN NAVY

The fast-moving Garrison machine scored one goal in each half to gain a 2-1 verdict over the Navy at Beacon Hill in a bitterly contested match. Kicking down the slope in the first half, the Tommies were up in less than ten minutes of play, when Joe Middleton found the net with a soft drive at close range.

Their opponents forced the issue from the centre, but the good clearing of the Garrison fullbacks, and the lack of finish by the Navy forwards, shaded many beautiful opportunities of breaking into the score column. The winners held an edge, but the fine work of Barker, guarding the Navy citadel, prevented any further scoring, in the first half, and with the arrival of the rest period the score stood 1-0 in favor of the Garrison.

Kicking down hill in the second stanza the Sailors made a better showing, but their forwards missed many good chances of finding the net. Barker, at the other end of the field, was tested with a few hot shots, but he cleared nicely. Twenty minutes from time the Tommies made it 2-0 when Barker went in close to beat Barker with a fast drive. Sandy Spiers, centre half, after carrying the ball up the field, passed to Kemp, right half, who slipped the ball to Barker.

MISS OPEN GOAL

With a 2-0 defeat staring them in the face, the Tars were in the fight all of the way and towards the latter stages of the game they had the edge. Lovett missed an open goal during this last effort of the Navy. Five minutes from time Harry Harts, white-washed when he shot found the net after hitting one of the opposing fullbacks.

The Sailors came back strong after the break, but they were not able to score on the goal.

Spiers, of the Garrison, and Roberts, of the Navy, respectively centre halfbacks, were easily best men on the field.

Saunders refereed and the teams were:

Garrison—Lindgren, Farrar, Wallace, Kemp, Spiers, Quinn, Newton, Richard, Middleton, Craig and Henry.

Navy—Barker, Hall, Dyson, C. White, Roberts, Prizau, Stone, Marr, Kerr, Lovett and Barr.

BAYS WHITEWASH SAANICH

Four goals by King, two each by Fish and Collier and one by Playfair, of the Hudson's Bay forward line, gave their teammates a 9-0 victory over the Saanich United at Beacon Hill upper ground yesterday.

The score does not represent the trend of the play, as the youngsters from Saanich presented many dangerous attacks. The losers had plenty of speed, but they found the defensive work of their opponents beyond their efforts of scoring.

In the first half the winning goal was scored by King, only to come back and double this score in the second session.

Hewson refereed and the teams were:

Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton, Haagen, Gardiner, Maiz, Oakman, Kechin, Addie, Fish, King, Collier and Playfair.

Saanich United—Spellar, Lynn, Love, Hogarth, Miller, Barry, Brown, Tooby, Simpson, Stonier and Ash.

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 12.—Alexander Alekhine, Russian challenger, tonight won the twelfth game in his match for the world's chess championship with Jose R. Capablanca, the titleholder. He has won three games and Capablanca two, the others being drawn.

Alekhine's victory was scored after he had made but one move in an adjourned game and Capablanca resigned immediately.

This confirmed the views of the experts, who considered the champion irrefragably lost. The thirteenth game is scheduled to start tomorrow night.

RACE DRIVER HURT IN CRASH

Harry Hartz Hits Fence in 200-Mile Grind, and Is Rushed to Hospital Seriously Injured

CAR IN FLAMES FIRES SPEEDWAY

ROCKINGHAM SPEEDWAY, SALEM, N.H., Oct. 12.—A spectacular crash that set fire to the speedway and sent Harry Hartz, one of America's leading automobile race drivers, to a hospital seriously injured, today forced a halt in the 200-mile Columbus Day Sweepstakes here. A seventy-five-mile dash was then held to determine prize winners and championship point scorers in the incomplete grid race.

The accident occurred on the fifty-second lap of the scheduled 200-mile grind when Hartz, attempting to snatch the lead from youthful Frank Lockhart by a terrific dash directly in front of the grandstand, lost control while traveling at a 126-mile-an-hour clip. The machine skidded crazily down the boards to the dirt, overturned and hurled Hartz twenty-five feet.

Bursting into flames, the car bounded back on to the track and rolled over four more times, starting four fires along the infield rail.

HARTZ BADLY CUT

Hartz was conscious when he reached the field hospital, and later was removed to the Lawrence General Hospital, where it was said he had suffered a deep gash in his head and a broken leg. His condition, while said to be serious, was not regarded as critical.

T. J. Hart decided to call the race a contest, allowing the drivers to place in the order in which they were driving when the start was made.

The decision gave Lockhart first place, Hartz second, Peter de Paolo, present champion point leader, third, Babe Stapp, fourth, and Cliff Woodbury fifth.

LOCKHART A WALKAWAY

The seventy-five-mile race, started as soon as the track was cleared, proved a walkaway for Lockhart, who led all the way, finishing in 31 minutes 31.19 seconds. The race ended with an accident on the field failed to hinder Lockhart, who sent his machine around at an average of from 126 to 130 miles an hour.

Peter Kreis was second and Frank Elliott third to Hartz, while Lockhart and de Paolo were runners-up to Woodbury. Immediately after the seventy-five-mile race officials began the arduous task of figuring the division of cash prizes and championship points.

Two ten-mile sprints which preceded what was to have been the 200-mile race were won by Hartz and Woodbury. Hartz finished in 5:12.45 and Woodbury in 5:14.

GIRL SWIMMER TO GET $5,000

Dorothy Loran, Holder of Women's Channel Record, Satisfies Officials and Will Receive Prize

INVESTIGATION CLEARS DOUBT

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Dorothy Cochran Loran, who yesterday swam the English Channel, and Horace Carey, her trainer, swore to affidavits today regarding the swim, and tomorrow Dr. Loran will receive a prize of £1,000 for breaking the record, Carey said tonight. The prize was offered by Lord Riddell, publisher of The News of the World, to the first British woman lowering the time taken by Miss Ederle to cross the English Channel. (Dr. Loran was credited yesterday with crossing the Channel in thirteen hours and ten minutes. Miss Ederle took fourteen hours and thirty-one minutes).

Carey declared that if the watchman at Cape Gris Ne lighthouse had been keeping the proper lookout between 7 and 8 o'clock Monday night he could not have failed to see the dinghy with Miss Loran aboard leave the fishing smack off shore and row to the beach from which she started her swim.

DOUBT CLEARED UP
PARIS, Oct. 12.—A dispatch to Le Matin from Boulogne says that investigation has established that the swimming of the English Channel by Dorothy Cochran Loran is perfectly authentic. Paris newspapers today had cast doubt on the performance.

The dispatch to Le Matin says that Popieul, a man from the Cape Gris Nez Semaphore, who was off duty, was taking a stroll on the cliffs, and saw the British swimmer start. The light boat accompanying her was seen also by the Egyptian swimmer Isak Helmy, a hotel-keeper, and the lighthouse keeper. Le Matin's correspondent says that the only mistake she made was in not announcing her departure beforehand, so that it would be properly certified.

Experimental training has been given to some prisoners in so reassuring results that several Government institutions have been built by this prison labor.

DAM COMPLETED ON ZUYDER ZEE

Work of Reclamation Proceeding Rapidly, According to Latest Reports

The reclamation of the Zuider Zee is proceeding apace under the supervision of twenty-five Dutch engineers, who have 1,000 workmen at their disposal. One of the minor dams, which, with the central main dam, are to block the mouth of the Zuider Zee, has recently been completed. This dam is one and a half miles in length, and runs from the west coast to the Island of Wieringen.

The main dam will be some twelve miles in length, and will run from Wieringen, an artificial island, Wieringen's "opposite number," which is being constructed at an equal distance from the Friesland coast, with which it will be connected by a third small dam.

During a recent visit I was able to go over the completed portion, state the Hague correspondent of The London Times. Behind the embankment which faces the sea there are two parallel tracks, each about twenty-five yards in width.

The southernmost of these is now the main road, and carries the traffic to and from Wieringen. The second track is destined eventually to carry a railway across the Zuider Zee. It is at present some ten feet above the water level, and having been built up to this height in order that the extra weight of material should accelerate the settling of the under-soil. In eight years' time, it is thought, the settling will have so far advanced as to give sufficient strength to the dam to prevent gaps forming after the opening of the railway service. The top layer will then be removed, and the permanent way laid on the same level as the main road.

Another great work which has been completed is the construction of a new sea dyke from Ewyskuis in a northwesterly direction nearly as far as Helder, the northernmost point of Holland. This was built as a precaution against the higher tides which are expected after the closing of the Zuider Zee. To have strengthened the old main sea dyke sufficiently to withstand these would have necessitated the expropriation of large areas of valuable farm land.

A new dyke was therefore built parallel to and about 200 yards east of the old one. This has the advantage of creating a first-class ship canal, ten miles in length, which will be made still longer when the new dyke is continued to the south. Another new dyke is to be built next year from the east to Wieringen Island, to Medemblik, in the south, and the area thus enclosed will, when the water has been drained off by powerful pumps, be the first of the four polders of reclaimed land.

A COMPLETED TASK

At the eastern end of Wieringen two more considerable tasks have been completed. These are the new dock, which serves as a base for the dredgers' barges and the construction of the fifteen sluice gates, which are to control the waters of that part of the Zuider Zee which remain unclaimed. This work is simply a stretch of the old sea bottom enclosed by a dyke, the water having been pumped out. The construction was a matter of great difficulty. Boulder clay was taken by dredgers from a spot in the Zuider Zee some five miles away and brought to Wieringen by barges. This clay, which is a deposit from the ice period, is proof against erosion even in a strong current, and will form the foundation of all the main works. After dumping the boulder clay up to sea level, the water was pumped out and the embankment thoroughly reinforced.

The outer face of the dyke has been covered with large blocks of stone, which are brought in barges from Germany and Belgium. It is stated that between £2,000,000 and £3,000,000 is to be spent in the purchase of this stone from abroad.

This sluice basin is nearly half a mile long and about 300 yards in width. It will contain fifteen sluice gates of thirty-three feet wide. These will be used to regulate the water level of the lake formed by the unreclaimed central portion of the Zuider Zee. Lake Yssel, as it has been named, will receive its waters from the Rhine through the River Yssel. On the Friesland side of the Zuider Zee, where the artificial island is being built, another great basin to contain ten more sluices is in course of construction. It is thought that these twenty-five sluices, with two very large locks

QUOTA PROPOSAL NOT ACCEPTABLE

Hon. Robert Forke Informs Anglican Committee That It Is Not Considered Feasible

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—Adoption of a quota policy in Canada to restrict continental immigration was not regarded as feasible. Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, told a delegation of the General Synod of the Anglican Church, which conferred with him here today, but he gave his assurance that his department would do all it could to promote British immigration and to keep control over continental immigration.

The delegation was headed by Archbishop Matheson, the primate of all Canada. A statement issued said that the subject of immigration would occupy an important place on the agenda of the conference between the Dominion and Provincial Governments in November. The minister expressed a desire to meet representatives of the churches and other voluntary organizations interested in immigration to confer with him in Ottawa with a view to full co-operation in securing an increased flow of British settlers for Canada.

The total cost of enclosing the Zuider Zee is estimated to reach 90,000,000 florins (£7,500,000), but against this must be set the benefits to be derived from the operation, which are estimated at 150,000,000 florins (£12,500,000). Of this sum 100,000,000 florins represents the capitalized value of the advantages which are expected to accrue from the creation of a reservoir of fresh water from which the northern provinces can draw a plentiful supply of good drinking water for cattle, a matter of great importance in the production of milk. The benefits to shipping are placed at a further 50,000,000 florins.

At present the conveyance of goods by water in the northern provinces suffers considerably in the event of drought, when, as a consequence of low water, vessels can only be partially loaded. Lastly, the capital value of the land to be reclaimed is 50,000,000 florins (£4,250,000), while the cost of reclamation is estimated only to reach 45,000,000 florins (£3,750,000). From an economic point of view, therefore, the scheme may be regarded as profitable.

Population of State Prisons Growing Fast

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 12.—Crime, as evidenced by admissions to state prisons, is growing faster than the population of the United States, figures announced by the Census Bureau indicate.

Complete returns from thirty-one states covering fifty-eight of a total of ninety-nine state prisons and reformatories listed 27,018 new prisoners received by these institutions in 1926 as compared with 21,054 in 1923, the first prison census year, or an increase of 28.3 per cent. There were 34.1 prisoners per 100,000 population jailed last year as against 27.9 in 1923.

The total inmates in fifty-eight institutions on January 1 last was 63,828 as against 47,578 on January 1, 1923.

Of the states covered, Ohio led in both new prisoners received and total inmates. Its four institutions received 3,171 prisoners during the year and the total was 9,144.

States which received more than 1,000 new inmates were Texas, 1,979; California, 1,789; Illinois, 1,726; Oklahoma, 1,689; Missouri, 1,600; Pennsylvania, 1,531; Kentucky, 1,385; and Kansas, 1,256.

U. S. Medical Colleges Are Being Crowded
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Undaunted by the prospect of a life of hard and unrelenting effort, students are turning to the study of medicine in larger numbers than the schools are able to train. Dr. Benjamin P. Watson declared at the opening exercises of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University.

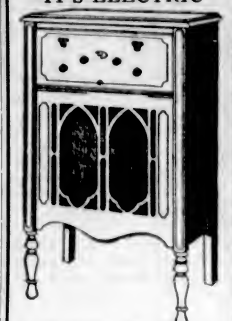

Dr. Watson, who came to Columbia last year from the University of Edinburgh, called medicine a hard taskmaster, offering financial reward not commensurate with the physical effort expended. Despite that, he declared, medical schools have more applicants than can be provided for.

He declared a tendency to emphasize the laboratory side of the investigation of a patient at the expense of the clinical side, and declared that a doctor with no knowledge of human nature will fail. The great strides of medicine in recent years he attributed to the patient work of the bacteriologist, the biochemist, the psychologist and the pharmacologist.

CLOCK PLAYS MANY TUNES

A clock that plays tunes has just been put on display in London. Every part is hand made and engraved, and the timepiece is believed to be the only one of its kind in the world. It is a perfect timekeeper, chimes every quarter of the hour on eight bells, and at the hour, after striking, plays one of six tunes on fourteen bells, concealed in a gilt wooden box. The tunes are "Auld Lang Syne," "The Blue Bells of Scotland," "Robin Adair," "Caledonia," a Scotch reel, and the Scotch National Anthem. The clock was made in Glasgow, and required two years to construct. Some of the parts are minute, and are perfect in detail.

The delegation was headed by Archbishop Matheson, the primate of all Canada. A statement issued said that the subject of immigration would occupy an important place on the agenda of the conference between the Dominion and Provincial Governments in November. The minister expressed a desire to meet representatives of the churches and other voluntary organizations interested in immigration to confer with him in Ottawa with a view to full co-operation in securing an increased flow of British settlers for Canada.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—The American Federation of Labor yesterday ratified an agreement of its executive council with the Mexican Federation of Labor involving Mexican emigration restriction only after the full force of the federation administration was thrown into the debate to break what threatened to become a deadlock.

The House of Rogues

CHAPTER XV

As they ascended the stairs in the wake of the sheriff's slumping shoes, Tommy Oliver was snickering softly and a wide grin spread over his freckled young face.

"You sure horned into it pretty, J.B.," he chuckled. "Gosh, but ain't it the beat of a little mystery, though? Mystery rooms 'n ever'-thing!"

"Don't kilt your hopes too high, lad," answered the veteran sleuth. "I've noticed that these cases that start with a whizz-bang generally fizzle down to nothing. However, I'll have to admit that this case is certainly promising."

"Queer old joint this, huh?" said Tommy, letting his eyes drink in the details of the house's interior almost with the fidelity of a camera plate. "The Black Fox built it, eh? Must have been a queer old bird."

Baskerville did not answer; he was busy with his own thoughts. He was impatient to make some progress for if this three-fingered man, whoever he might be, had escaped with the counterfeiting plates after killing John Strawn, every lost moment gave him opportunity to put additional distance between himself and pursuit.

The three-fingered man—who was he? Jagers' description of the suspect was too vague to be illuminating. Certainly it could not be the Black Fox, for just at this hour or thereabouts, Philip Reynard was stepping out into the world again after being jailed in for fifteen years. The Fox had all the cunning hinted at by his name; the Fox would know that the Government's ferrets would be watching him, and what more reasonable than that he should dispatch a confederate to get the job done.

Nothing had been disturbed since the moment that Bob Edwards, being over the prostrate form, had dropped the old-fashioned pistol to the rug; no foot, other than Dolley's, had trod further than a bare few inches inside the door. The gun, as it happened, had failed at a point which made one consider the possibility of self destruction, falling from a hand which had pulled the trigger, it might have been resting in just such a position. The thought occurred to Sheriff Edwards as he stepped slowly at his moustache, he stared down upon the dead man.

"Mebbe it ain't murder after all," he muttered; "mebbe he done it himself. Sittin' at his desk, blows a hole through his brains 'n' topples out of the chair." He stooped down to pick up the weapon, but just as his fingers were reaching for the butt of it, Jasper Baskerville's voice, cracking like the snap of a whip, stopped him with a "Stop it! You'll destroy the finger-prints if there are any."

The sheriff, of course, knew somewhat vaguely about finger-prints and their importance as an aid to the solution of crime, but untrained as he was as a detective, he had not been on the verge of making a serious blunder, but he was the sort who never admits a mistake.

"Mind your own business," he retorted. "Don't you suppose I got sense enough to be on the lookout for finger-prints? What kind of a boob do you think I am, anyhow?"

"Now see here, sheriff," said J.B. "I'm one of the earliest men in the world to get along with and we can work together without any need of friction if you'll quit resenting my presence and be decently reasonable. Viewing this matter strictly as a homicide I've no right to cross the boundary line of your authority, but there's every reason to believe that the murder was the outcome of an effort to get the counterfeiting plates—and that cuts in the Government."

"Do you want to be reasonable or are you going to force me to make an issue of our respective authority? I certainly am not going to let you view this evidence and destroy what clues there may be here for us."

Sheriff Edwards' inclination was to bluster and although he surrendered he did it with bad grace. "All right," he grunted reluctantly. "I guess we can work together. Mr. what do you say your name was?"

"Baskerville," answered J.B. "and you'll find that I have no desire to usurp your authority or steal your thunder. If it should happen that I can help you in getting to the bottom of this thing I'm entirely willing that you should have all the credit. I'm not officially interested in that except as it may concern the counterfeiting plates. Now, that being agreed, suppose we have a look at the gun. Carefully, man, pick it up by the barrel."

Tommy Oliver took a step nearer. "It's sure an old-time gat, J.B.," he said, as Sheriff Edwards picked the gun from the floor. They haven't made smoke-wagons like that since the year one."

Baskerville nodded. "Certainly it is almost an antique, lad, thirty-eight calibre and of a pattern that's been obsolete a good many years. Bulky, unwieldy thing for a man to pack around, eh?"

"It ain't the sort of gun, J.B.," offered Tommy, "that a professional gunman would have on him; too easy for a cop to spot it." He referred to the Sullivan Law in New York State, which makes it a felony for a man to have a gun in his possession without a permit from a police magistrate.

"I was thinking of that myself," said J.B. "You're quite right; no crook worthy of the name would own a blunderbuss like this one. Most of them go in for those neat automatics which snuggle flat in one pocket."

Sheriff Edwards was subjecting the long-barrel gun to close scrutiny, holding it close to his eyes. "Look at them finger-prints!" he exclaimed triumphantly. "Oodles 'em. All we got to do is to find the feller who made these finger-prints an' we've got the murderer!"

GASOLINE BAD AS DYNAMITE

Ontario Fire Marshal Planning Educational Campaign to Prevent Tragedies

TORONTO.—In the hope of preventing any repetition of the gasoline disaster which resulted in the wrecking of the home of Chas. R. House on Douglas Drive at the death of three people recently, P. Heaton, Ontario Fire Marshal, is planning an educational campaign directed at the public in general.

At the same time he feels there should not be any necessity for such a campaign in view of the frequent warnings which have been given and the minor accidents which have resulted from the use of this inflammable liquid. One gallon of gasoline, he points out, has substantially the same explosive power as eighty-three pounds of dynamite, and inquiry has brought out the fact that on the day of explosion Mr. House took several gallons to his home.

Apparently the public mind is so difficult to reach that we must make a special drive against gasoline, a simplified direct campaign that will reach every person in the Province," Mr. Heaton said. "The roadside disaster will be a warning. The pity is that the public mind should be so careless of the dangers of fire and explosion hazards that so terrible an example is necessary to arouse it."

WARNING BROADCAST

Mr. Heaton added that tens of thousands of illustrated booklets dealing with the hazards were distributed at the exhibition. Definite paragraphs under the heading "Do You Know?" and referring to gasoline were also included.

"That where gasoline is used for cleaning purposes it should be kept in a small approved self-closing can," Mr. Heaton said. "That gasoline vapor is three times heavier than air and will float near the ground or drop to the basement like an invisible gas, and under favorable conditions will ignite from a spark or flame."

"That the number of fires caused by the careless handling of gasoline and coal oil in Ontario last year was 328 and that the loss amounted to $309,286."

Mr. George F. Lewis, Deputy Fire Marshal, in recalling that gasoline was three times heavier than air, pointed out that the fumes would find the lowest portion in any room and that accordingly favorable conditions in the room would bring about an explosion. Ignition need not necessarily come from a spark or flame, as it might be caused by static electricity produced by a number of illustrations where gasoline explosions had occurred because rectifying processes had refined the gasoline until it became extremely volatile.

Mr. Lewis said that gasoline used as a solvent for rubber, would ignite at sixty-five degrees Fahrenheit.

ALWAYS DANGEROUS

It is always dangerous to use gasoline for cleaning purposes, according to the opinion of expert chemists. They state that when it is used in washing machines in poorly ventilated rooms, and basements, it is nothing short of a miracle that more explosions have not occurred.

Mr. Alex. Diggins, a manufacturers' agent who represents two washing machine makers, stated he would not care to attempt to use gasoline in the machines. As he put it, the experiment might go through fifty times without any disastrous effects, while the next attempt might result in tragedy.

"You cannot put it too strongly that motor fuel should not be used for cleaning purposes," stated Mr. W. A. P. Schorman, consulting engineer for the British American Oil Company, who lives just four houses from the wrecked home. "Motor fuel is highly volatile, and when it is vaporized the volatility is much greater. The room would be much more quickly with the fumes of the present day than in the past. This is true of nearly all motor fuels used today."

"A gallon of gasoline after it is vaporized and mixed with the proper amount of air or oxygen, would produce a force, if confined, about equal to sixty sticks of dynamite," Mr. Schorman added. "Three sticks of dynamite, confined in a bomb, would be sufficient to do about the same damage as was done in the explosion recently. The safe way, where cleaning has to be done, is for people to do it out of doors, where there is sufficient air to carry away the gas which escapes from the cleaning fluid."

In view of the fact that a great many of the homes in the city have

There's an anecdote with the picture of Premier Ferguson and Premier King, taken at the University of Toronto centennial celebration. "This," observed Mr. Ferguson, as the cameraman posed the group, "should be a good photograph." Mr. King smiled agreement. "Yes," continued Mr. Ferguson, "with the present Premier and (tapping his chin) with the future." Mr. King smiled again. The camera clicked.

RIN-TIN-TIN STARS IN WESTERN EPIC

"Tracked by Police," Showing at Columbia Today Is Drama of Southwest

The epic drama of the winning of the great Southwestern desert is brought to the screen in "Tracked by Police," a Warner Brothers production starring Rin-Tin-Tin, showing today at the Columbia Theatre.

With the great Laguna Dam and Irrigation Works on the Colorado River as a background, the story tells of the brave fight of the heroic pioneers to win homes and land from the barren desert. They see in the waters of the broad Colorado a source of limitless wealth, but their problem is how to accomplish the stupendous task against hostile nature and envious men.

Rinty is seen as the dog of Bob Owen, a young foreman. When the superintendent is disabled in one of a series of mysterious accidents, he turns his responsibilities over to Bob. In this, the other foreman, who has been bribed by a rival construction company to force the abandonment of the work, sees an opportunity to get Bob and his troublesome dog out of the way, so that he may wreck the unfinished dam.

PLAYHOUSE If your preference in theatre screen entertainment runs to melodrama, there is a photoplay made to order for you at the Playhouse Theatre, where "The Fighting Edge," a Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen, is now showing. There are a number of furious fights, there is misunderstanding between young lovers which threatens their romance, and there is a thrilling mystery. It has everything that makes for thrilling screen entertainment and is a thoroughly enjoyable photoplay. "The Body in the Bag," Will Marshall has not only heard of it but he is the body that is in the bag in this week's stage attraction at the Playhouse, "Over the River Charlie."

Constance Talmadge employs the green-eyed monster, jealousy, in a futile attempt to regain the affections of her first love. "Breakfast at Sunrise" is an amusing farce of sophisticated Paris, and was directed by Mal St. Clair, a master of subtle comedy. An excellent cast supports Miss Talmadge in the picture. In addition to Alvarado, the film has such noted players as Bryant Washburn, Marie Dressler, Alice White, Burr McIntosh, Nellie Baker, Paulette Goddard, Albert Gran and David M. R. On the stage are Godfrey and Robinson, two colored foes, in a dramatic burlesque entitled, "Spaghetti a la Mode"; Doris Barrington, the English soprano, late of the Entire Chariot of comedy vaudeville, London, Eng., and Jean Gauld, the wonderful dancer in a special terpsichorean specialty.

DOMINION In "Adam and Evil," now playing at the Dominion Theatre, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has launched a new co-starring comedy team—Low Coda and Aileen Pringle. Up to two years ago Coda was recognized as one of the most famous "heavies" of the screen. Up to the making of "Adam and Evil," Aileen Pringle was celebrated for her portrayal of sophisticated roles. If the new team can keep up the standard they have set for themselves in "Adam and Evil," they will soon acquire the reputation of the best comedy team in feature films. The picture was directed by Robert Z. Leonard, famous for his work as a director of such film celebrities as Mae Murray, Norma Shearer, Lew Cody, Pauline Starke, Charles Ray and others.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog, and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from a lot of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for sixty years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and is used in every home because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

BELLINGHAM, Oct. 12.—William J. Crawford, forty-five, a mechanic of Victoria, B.C., was released today from the county jail after posting $1,500 bail for his appearance before the federal judge at Seattle on a liquor smuggling charge.

Federal officers apprehended him in Skagit County Tuesday and seized forty-one bottles of whisky in his automobile which they claim he had transported from Victoria by way of the Anacortes ferry. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned here.

As the result of the collapse of a large building in Cornhill, a thorough testing of buildings is in progress in London.

Dr. David Berman Mentions That Windows Should Be Arranged to Prevent Drafts

Dr. David Berman, municipal health officer, has pointed out several changes in Sanitich schools at a meeting of the School Board, held at Royal Oak School.

He thought that a cool heating equipment should be so arranged that teachers would be able to adjust the heat without having recourse to the janitor, and that windows should be arranged to prevent fresh air to the ceiling and prevent drafts. He also mentioned that playground drinking fountains should have plastic covers provided to enable the smaller children to drink without undue stretching.

Inspector W. H. M. May spoke briefly on the contemplation of a new plan for the Sanitich Board. The plan is at present under the advisement of the board.

A letter was read from the Sanitich local board of health, recommending playgrounds on reverted lands in several different localities, in which the cost of construction will be shared by the School Board. The playground will be constructed off Burnside Road at an estimated cost of $500, of which the board will contribute $250.

GAMING FORGERS CAUGHT

Two men who came near breaking the bank in the Kurasaal at Ostend ended their streak of luck in jail. The crookery became suspicious when an unusual number of 500 franc counters appeared on the table. One of the counters was examined and proved to be false. The two players were arrested and found to be in possession of 80,000 francs worth of the forged counters, while in their lodgings were found more, representing 200,000 francs.

Vancouver Island Agriculture at Comox In Healthy Condition

Satisfactory Reports and Statements Received at Annual Meeting of Association at Courtenay—Officers Elected for Ensuing Year

COURTENAY, Oct. 12.—The annual meeting of the Comox Agricultural and Industrial Association was held on Monday evening, when the election of officers for the ensuing year and other matters were dealt with. The activities of the society were enumerated in the report of Mr. Felix Thomas, secretary, which was substantially as follows:

"Since the 1926 Fall Fair a revival of the ploughing match in the Comox Valley has been brought about with a match held on Mr. Urquhart's farm on November 17. Later, in the same month, the association, assisted by residents of Courtenay, staged a 'Trial by Jury' in the hall, which netted the association the sum of $80. On the last day of November there was a special swine production and marketing course in conjunction with the Dominion Livestock branch and the British Columbia Department of Agriculture. Short courses in poultry and lectures were given on January 25 to 27, with field demonstrations by Messrs. Allen and Wabbe.

"During February, Mr. Arthur Morton, Dominion sheep and swine promoter, gave a moving picture show and a lecture on this subject, and on the formation of boys' and girls' stock clubs. There was also an illustrated lecture during the same month on potato diseases by Mr. Eastman, Provincial plant pathologist. Mr. Ed. White, Provincial horticulturist, visited some of the fruit growers in the valley in company with the secretary at the end of the month.

WORK BRINGS RESULTS

"In March, Major Furber, chief game warden, addressed a meeting which was well attended. The work of Mr. Morton and Mr. E. W. Bewell was seen to have had results in the showing of pigs by some twenty boys and girls at the 1927 Fall Fair. The boys and girls have also been awarded second place for pig clubs over the province, which is cause for congratulation.

"The Ladies' Auxiliary of the association, although very few in numbers, has continued throughout to give valuable help as usual, and to add materially to its funds. The co-operation between the district agriculturist and the association has been free and beneficial, as has been that with the Comox Creamery Association. A number of shows have been held during the Summer. The annual agricultural exhibition held in September was successful, thanks in a good measure to local support. Contrary to previous years, the association is now in the happy position of having paid all accounts for the year in full and has a substantial balance in the bank. The secretary's report was well received.

FINANCES IMPROVED

Mr. John MacIntyre, treasurer, submitted a very satisfactory statement, showing the finances of the society to have been considerably improved during the year. After making provision for a prize list of $215 in excess of last year's list, paying all outstanding accounts and allowing for every outstanding cheque, the association now has the very useful sum of $600 in the bank, with which it would be possible to commence some permanent stock building. The treasurer reported the books of the association to be in first-class order. His report was also well received. Mrs. W. Brown and Mr. McPhee reported for the Auxiliary.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary presidents, His Honor Randolph R. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia; Mr. Alec Urquhart and Mrs. William Lewis; president, Mr. W. A. B. Paul; first vice-president, Mr. H. Morrison; second vice-president, Mr. A. R. F. Reid; secretary, Mr. W. Urquhart, who was elected treasurer. The new directors are: Messrs. W. McPhee and W. Brown, and Messrs. D. M. Isenor, J. Brown, and Mr. W. Urquhart. William Duncan, H. Smith, R. U. Hurford, H. S. Baker, John Crockett and C. W. Leedam. The repairing of the Agricultural Hall and improvements to the Fair Grounds were discussed. The association is offering a prize of $10 for the junior event in the ploughing match to be held here on October 26, for which entries are now being received, and other good prizes have been secured.

Trout Big and Plentiful Now At Greendale

LAKE COWICHAN, Oct. 12.—The fishing in the pools at Greendale, Lake Cowichan, has afforded excellent sport to the visitors staying in the cottages at Greendale. Mr. I. Kelway has caught forty-five fine trout averaging two pounds each; Captain Thorpe, Double, on his first day landed one weighing three and three-quarter pounds and others of good size; Mr. Irving Walker, from Los Angeles, who with his family visited Greendale annually, is also perfectly satisfied with results obtained from these pools.

HARVEST FESTIVALS

Large Congregations at Patricia Bay and South Saanich—Social at Keating

KEATING, Oct. 12.—A large congregation was in attendance at the annual harvest home service held at the South Saanich United Church on Sunday morning, October 9. The beautiful decorations were carried off by the young people and consisted of reasonable fruits, flowers and vegetables. The Thanksgiving address was delivered by Rev. T. Keyworth, of the James Bay United Church. The appropriate music was delivered by the combined choirs of the Sidney and South Saanich United Churches, and the anthems were "The Earth Is the Lord's," and "O Lord, How Manifold."

PATRICIA BAY, Oct. 12.—An unusually large congregation attended the annual harvest thanksgiving services held last Sunday at Holy Trinity Church. The church was artistically decorated with a profusion of flowers, fruits and vegetables. Services were conducted by the rector, Rev. Thomas M. Hughes, and Dean Quinton.

SOCIAL TONIGHT

KEATING, Oct. 12.—Commencing at 8 o'clock the annual harvest festival concert and social, in connection with the harvest service, will be held in Temperance Hall tomorrow evening, under the auspices of the South Saanich Ladies Aid. Members of the First United Church choir, of Victoria, will provide the concert numbers for the evening, and Rev. Dr. Wilson will deliver an address. Many of these are well known in the district, their reputations as entertainers being of a high order, and it is hoped that as many as possible will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing this talented group. Refreshments will be served at the close of the concert.

SALE OF WORK

COLWOOD, Oct. 12.—The members of the Junior W.A. are holding a sale of work, home cooking and candy in the Colwood Hall on Tuesday, October 18, at 3:30 p.m. Afternoon tea will be served.

LADIES' AID MEETING

KEATING, Oct. 11.—The Ladies' Aid of the South Saanich United Church will meet in the church parlor on Thursday afternoon, October 13, at 2:30 o'clock, for the October session.

METCHOSIN EVENT BENEFITS CHURCH

Fine Sum Raised at Harvest Home Entertainment—Excellent Programme Provided

METCHOSIN, Oct. 12.—The most successful gathering held in recent years took place in the hall on Tuesday evening, the occasion being a harvest home supper in aid of St. Mary's Church. The excellent supper, which was served in the main hall, was convened by the following: Lady Emily Walker, Mesdames Ash, Clarke, Ellwood, Helgeson, Lukey, Osborne, Percy, Reid, and W. Urquhart, with the young girls of the district assisting. Considerably over one hundred and fifty participated in the good cheer, at tables prettily decorated with flowers, pumpkins and colored candles. The entertainment which followed was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Prudd, Mrs. F. A. Pearce and Mr. E. P. Ash. Among the items were several comic turns in costume which brought the house down, namely, two quartettes by four "scarecrows," a song by Mr. W. G. Milled, a recitation by Mr. E. F. Ash, and a monologue by Mr. E. P. Ash.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed by Mr. Ellwood, seconded by Dr. Brown, to the ladies of the supper committee, and to the district in general for their generous support, both with donations in the form of food and through the medium of the Metchosin General Store. Mr. Ellwood procured general donations from the following wholesale companies: Messrs. Kelly Douglas Company, Wilson Bros., A. P. Glade & Company, B. Wilson & Company, Limited, Central Creameries, Limited, Swift Canadian Company, Canadian Bakeries, Limited, Ormond's, Limited, Puget Sound Lumber Company and the Columbia Paper Company, Limited.

The evening closed with a dance to excellent music from an orchestra. Large parties came from the surrounding districts, including Albert Head, William Head, Colwood, East and West Sooke, Rocky Point, and many from Victoria. As a result of this very successful evening the church funds will benefit to the extent of $140 or more.

CARD TOURNAMENT

KEATING, Oct. 11.—The regular fortnightly military five hundred card tournament will be held in the Temperance Hall, East Saanich Road, on Saturday evening, October 15. This will be the second name of the season, and the committee in charge will be Mesdames Mosher, Young and Olden.

Teacher—Willie, can you tell me how matches are made?

Willie—No, ma'am, but I don't blame you for wanting to find out.

Teacher—Why? What do you mean?

Willie—Mother says you have been trying to make one for years.

VIMY MEMORIAL WELL UNDER WAY

Monument Will Carry Names of 30,000 Canadian Soldiers Reported Missing

QUEBEC, Oct. 12.—Work on the actual setting of the masonry on the Vimy Ridge memorial to Canadian soldiers who lost their lives in the great war has commenced. It was learned from Brig.-Gen. H. P. Hughes, chief engineer of the Canadian Battlefields Memorials Commission in Europe recently, and this is the reason for his hurried return to Belgium and postponing of his intended visit to his home in Victoria, B. C., until next year. General Hughes, who has been in active service in Belgium and France for the past thirteen years, stated that splendid progress had been made on the erection of the eight memorials to Canada's war dead in Europe. The memorial at Vimy Ridge alone remains to be completed and this is such an extensive project, comprising as it does about 225 acres of land, that considerable work still remains to be done there.

The general explained that at the conclusion of the great war the Canadian Government selected eight sites in France and Belgium for the erection of memorials. Working from the north, the sites chosen are at St. Julien, Passchendaele, Hill 61, Sanctuary Wood in Belgium; and in France, Dury, Bourlon, Courcellette, Laquehenal and Vimy Ridge, all of which places were made famous by the exploits of the Canadians during the war. The central feature of at least six out of the seven memorials which have been completed so far, General Hughes said, is the fifteen-ton block of Canadian granite which forms the base of the monument.

When the memorials have all been completed they will be handed over to the Imperial War Graves Commission to maintain in perpetuity. The Canadian Battlefields Memorials Commission is now concentrating all its efforts on the erection of the Vimy Ridge monument. The reinforced concrete base was completed last month and the setting of the masonry commenced on September 27. The monument, which was designed by Mr. W. Orwood, of Toronto, will be much larger than any of the others, and it will be engraved the names of thirty thousand Canadian soldiers who were reported missing and who have no known graves.

The names of five thousand other missing Canadians have been inscribed on the memorial which was unveiled at Menin Gate by King Albert of Belgium in July last. Another interesting ceremony to which the general referred was the unveiling of a bronze plaque at the Hotel de Ville in the city of Mons, to commemorate the recapture of the city by the Canadians during the last days of the fighting in November, 1918. Lieut.-Gen. Sir Harry Bursall, a native of Quebec, had unveiled the plaque, while a guard of honor of Canadian ex-servicemen, thirty per cent of whom were officers, journeyed to Mons from London.

An interesting feature which the Vimy Ridge memorial already possesses, General Hughes said, is the only remaining piece of authentic first line trench on the Western front of the war. It has been reconstructed along lines which should assure its preservation for the next 100 years, he declared.

The question is asked: "Does the wearing of glasses handicap a girl in search for a husband?" Certainly not. If she didn't wear glasses some of the smaller ones might escape her.

Seton Karr, the traveler, said recently that the African savage is the happiest of mankind.
